OVER JEFF COMPLETION

Trustees' Sigh of Relief Was Short-Lived

By DON MILLER

Trustees of the Jefferson High school district breathed a sigh of relief Monday night after approving a notice of completion for the oft-delayed reconstruction of Jefferson High school.

But the relief was short-lived.

For trustees were told that a company demolishing the old high school building might not complete its job before school started next month.

Representatives of Falk and Booth, architects for the district, told the board that the company, Mayco Salvage of South San Francisco, had reported that the demolition job might take longer than anticipated.

The company yesterday was scheduled to bring in extra equipment to complete the work.

Elio Fontana, president of the board, remarked that the demolition in its present stage "is a mess down there and we're very concerned about it. There's been too much of a delay on that school already."

At his suggestion, the board voted to send a letter to Mayco Salvage, warning the firm of penalties that would be assessed the company if the demolition were not completed on time.

In approving the certificate of completion for the new building, the board noted that the general contractor, the James B. Roberts company, will be assessed $1500 for failure to complete the building within the contract period. This period was extended a total of 89 days beyond the original deadline.

The $1500 represents a fine of $50 per day for 30 days.

Withheld from the final payment to the contractor will be about $6000, representing a half dozen facets of the building that have not been completed to the satisfaction of the architects, they reported.

The delay in the completion of the reconstruction has been blamed by the contractors on a variety of factors — weather, shortage of materials, vandalism and labor troubles.

Trustees were told that another $1954 would be deducted from the final payment to the Roberts company for what the district has claimed was damage and losses suffered by the district during the construction period.

Of this amount, district officials say, $1140 represents the cost of repairing and cleaning damaged machinery and $814 is for tools the district said were stolen.

Despite the delay in finishing the reconstruction, Fontana reported Monday that "personally, I was very impressed" with the new building. And he added:

"It seems every time we build a school, we have something a little bit different. The library, for example, is outstanding."

In another matter related to the reconstruction, Richard Coltrell, assistant to the district superintendent, reported that no bids had been received for painting the gymnasium and wood and metal shops at Jefferson.

He said nine painting contractors originally had expressed interest in the painting but that he had heard from only two of them about submitting a bid and that none had entered one.

The representatives of Falk and Booth said the bids would be re-advertised.

Joseph A. Cotteral, engineer for the architects, commented:

"We don't want that (no bids) to happen again. We're going to get hold of these people (painting contractors) and find out what happened."

He added that because of dust caused by the demolition of the old building, "it's probably a good thing we didn't award this painting contract now."

School Districts Approve Budgets

High School

A budget calling for a tax rate increase of 11 cents per $100 of assessed valuation was adopted by the Jefferson Union High school district Monday night.

The district's trustees acted after a public hearing in which no one appeared.

The budget calls for a total expenditure and outgo of $4,633,725. This is $938,340 higher than last year's figure.

The tax rate was set at $2.68 per $100 of assessed valuation. The 1962-63 rate was $2.57.

Acting Supt. Fred Goodell told trustees that the district will receive $93,000 more from the state this year because of new aid to school districts voted by the legislature in its special session last month.

A new law specifies that school districts may compute their average daily attendance (ADA) state aid on the anticipated ADA figure for the new fiscal year rather than using the prior year's figure.

This will result in the additional $93,000 for the high school district.

A motion by Trustee James Cooper to lop 2.7 cents off the tax rate died for lack of a second.

Cooper said that because of the $93,000 in added funds, he didn't think the district's contribution to an employe health plan and costs involved in classes for retarded children should be included in the tax rate computation.

Biggest jump in the new budget represents a boost in salaries for teachers and other employes.

The district this year approved pay increases averaging 7.5 per cent for its teachers. The boost had been sought by the teachers.

In other action, the board awarded a contract for $902,547 to the Martinelli Construction company of San Francisco for an addition to Terra Nova High school.

Last week, District Supt. Edward D. Morgan conferred with state education department officials in Sacramento over the bid submitted by the company.

Elementary

A budget of $4,424,031 was approved Monday night at a public hearing by the Jefferson Elementary school district board of trustees.

The figure was altered slightly from the tentative budget approved by the board last month.

The current tax rate of $2.68 per $100 assessed valuation will remain unchanged.

The forthcoming Junipero Serra freeway through Daly City has eliminated almost $2-million of assessed valuation from the district tax rolls.

Taxes on the property would amount to approximately $50,000, school Supt. Richard Foster said.

The district regained $116,250, however, with an increase in state aid from $309 to $321 per child.

The increase left the district with a healthy $131,778 in undistributed reserve.

In reply to a question from one of only two citizens to attend the hearing, Foster said any plan for a bond issue is "at least five years away, barring any unexpected growth."

"We're in pretty good shape," he noted.

M. E. Bloom of 27 Midvale drive, praised the board for its efforts at "watching the tax dollar."

"After watching you in action, I'm appreciative of the board's work," he said.

With the hiring of three new teachers and a custodian, Foster said the district is "ready for school to begin."

The new teachers are David Lewis, Judith Wotell and Martha Hanna. The custodian is Roy H. Coombs.

In other action the board:

Accepted $239 from the Abraham Lincoln school P-TA to be used for books, magazines and a podium for the multi-use room.

Accepted the resignation of sixth grade teacher Mrs. Dorothy Herdwagen, whose husband has taken a position in the East.

Authorized the administration to go to bid on darkening curtains in 29 classrooms throughout the district. The project is being financed by the National Defense Education Act.

Authorized another purchase of property in connection with the Woodrow Wilson school expansion.

Pool Danger Cited by Principal

Teen-agers using the Terra Nova High school outdoor pool at unauthorized night hours are engaging in "an extremely dangerous practice," the board of trustees of the Jefferson Union High school district was told Monday night.

In a letter to the board, Harold C. Tonini, Terra Nova principal, said there has been evidence of "drinking during these unauthorized night swimming parties."

He added that Pacifica police have been "most cooperative" in removing swimmers from the pool during periodic checks of the area. But he added:

"As soon as the squad car leaves the area, the swimmers are back in the pool."

Tonini noted that during unauthorized hours at night, the pool has neither lights nor life guards.

SAD BUSINESS—It's a sad business being lost as six-year-old Mark Murphy found out last week. The youngster is all tears here in the office of The Post-Times after he was found wandering around the Westlake Shopping center by Post-Times receptionist Hope Cid. Daly City Patrolman Edward Gannon found the boy's mother, Mrs. Carol Murphy of San Francisco, looking for her son in the center. (Post-Times Photo)

Our Gal Is Winner!

Post-Times columnist Nell Norton, proprietor of her food column, Sugar 'n Spice, was a big winner in baking at the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta last week.

She won three ribbons for a raft of goodies she entered.

Another big winner was the Daly City Garden club, which gained a first place award in its division. For pictures and stories on these winners, see Page 11.

Youngsters Guests of Fair

More than 5000 youngsters raced through the turnstiles Monday as free guests of the San Mateo county Fair and Floral Fiesta, and pushed the day's attendance well above the comparable day last year.

At least as many more children are expected today during the final "Kids' Day" program.

Total attendance this year has been 83,849. Monday there were 19,470 visitors to the fair and the races. On Monday of 1962's season, there were 18,884 visitors.

Library Unit to Review Its Closed Stack Policy

The Daly City Library commission will review its closed stack policy at its August meeting at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in the Coral room of the Westlake branch.

The commission will decide whether such books as the controversial "Dictionary of American Slang" should be kept under lock and key and who should be allowed to check them out.

The commission will meet with a new member as Mrs. Helen Staub replaces Mrs. Mayre Albert who has resigned due to ill health.

In other action, the commission will hear a statistical report by City Libraian Samuel Chandler on how Daly City's library compares with other libraries throughout the state.

The statistics were released in the winter issue of "California Libraian."

Chandler also will report on a need for the addition of another branch to the library system with the annexation of Bayshore City.

Rubble May Be Used To Halt Erosion

Rubble removed for Pacifica's new coastal freeway may be used to shore up some of the city's eroding shoreline properties.

Mayor Harold Feyge met Monday with officials of the McNamara company, freeway contractors, and was told that if coast property owners would pay for the hauling and the placing of the rubble, the company would be willing to co-operate.

Mayor Feyge said the rubble would be used on a dozen homesites in Pacific Manor where large sections of backyards have been lost to erosion.

Congress has appropriated $54,000 for a three-year engineering survey of the entire Pacifica shoreline to see what measures can be taken to permanently stop the damage.

At a luncheon conference Monday with Don McCullum, project engineer, and Steve McDermott, resident engineer for the McNamara company, Feyge learned that no definite plans have been made for disposing of the rubble.

The firm would be willing to enter into a contract arrangement (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

GOP Leader Talks About Convention

No one ever heard of launching a successful presidential candidate from a convention in Daly City, but the Republicans hope to do it next year.

The GOP convention is slated for San Francisco's Cow Palace, which happens to be in San Mateo county and in territory being annexed by Daly City.

Rep. William E. Miller, New York, Republican National Committee chairman, said the 1964 conclave will be a repeat of the 1956 convention in the Cow Palace. He said he is not worried about the influence of the so-called "radical right."

"I do not know what the so-called ultra-right wing is. I do not know who it is. I do not know where it is.

"The Republican party is composed of the same kind of people it has always had and I see no evidence of its leadership falling into the hands of an ultra group of any kind or of being infiltrated by such a group," he continued.

FREEWAY CONSTRUCTION STARTS

How New Roads Affect Coast

By RON BATES

PACIFICA and Westlake motorists using State Highway 1 will be detoured around Gateway and John Glenn drives as soon as construction begins on a $270,000 undercrossing by the state division of highways.

The road project, slated for completion in early 1964, is one of several highway plans expected to have a marked effect on the growing Pacifica community.

Probably the most visible and controversial to Pacifica residents is the expansion of the Coast highway into a modern four-lane freeway.

With the completion of the Southern freeway in San Francisco and Daly City, a resident of Vallemar will be able to drive uninterupted to downtown San Francisco where an estimated 60 per cent of Pacificans earn their living.

Advantages planners see to the freeway and its accompanying improvements include speedier travel, easier intra-city driving, new commercial development, safer sidewalks, quicker bus service and improved drainage.

However, several residents fear Pacifica's freeway will divide the city in two and have more disadvantages than advantages.

Other roads still on the drawing boards, however, are not expected to lend themselves to controversy as readily as the Coast highway project.

The Gateway undercrossing, for example, will eliminate a hazardous condition that now exists at the intersection.

Local traffic between Fairmont and Westlake Terrace will be able to cross under the Coast highway without interupting the main flow of vehicles.

Included in the plans will be two on-freeway bus stops and paved foot pathways on both sides for use by Westlake and Fairmont residents.

BY 1965 the state is expected to widen the remainder of the state highway from Vallemar to Linda Mar from two to four lanes.

The Pacifica city council already has signed an agreement for this project and has agreed to obtain property easements needed to accommodate the widening.

The project, expected to cost around $250,000, will include a six-foot crossway on the westerly side from Hewitt avenue (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Danger Seen in Police-Fire Unit

By LOIS McNALLY

Creation of a police-fire commission would cause a dangerous situation in the city of Pacifica, members of a citizens study committee concluded Monday night as they began drawing up a final report for the city council.

Committee members will meet again next Monday to get their report in shape for presentation to the council at its August 14 meting.

As summed up by committee member Gilbert West, to have the commission interfering in police matters could lead to political pressures and danger of corruption.

"Everybody is apt to try to influence the police. There would be people wanting to have tickets fixed, others would want to start gambling enterprises. At the very least, such a police commission would be meddlesome and time-consuming," West concluded in his report.

West claimed that "any review board, even though just advisory, can exert pressure. We have plenty of safeguards to keep police from becoming arbitrary, obnoxious, and illegal. These include the city manager, district (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Bayshore Fire Election Set

One of the first steps in the integration of Bayshore City services with Daly City will be taken Tuesday with an election on the dissolution of the Bayshore Fire Protection district.

Bayshore City will officially become part of Daly City August 22.

If the election is successful, Bayshore's ten-man fire fighting force will be absorbed into the Daly City system. Bayshore Fire Chief Herbert Ritzmann will receive a battalion chief rank.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Bayshore Fire House, 3301 Geneva avenue.

WESTLAKE STORES OPEN WEDNESDAY AND FRIDAY NIGHTS

Wait Period Planned for Health Plan

New employees coming into the Jefferson Elementary School district will have to wait six months for a completely free health plan.

The district's board of trustees decided Monday night to establish the waiting period for new employees rather than cut off the benefits of older employees.

The decision came after a report by trustee O. Wayne Douglas on negotiations with a health insurance company on coverage.

Douglas said that because the district had hired older teachers who were making more money, the anticipated cost of the selected health plan would be approximately $4000 higher.

The board budgeted $38,000 to finance the new plan.

The employees had a choice last year of two plans in which the district paid only part of the cost. Under the new plan, the district will bear the full cost.

The new employees, however, will be given the opportunity of paying for the plan themselves during the six-month waiting period, Douglas explained.

"Our primary obligation is to the dedicated Jefferson employee who has worked for us for a while," he said.

He said health insurance was a new experience for the board and it would be wiser to move cautiously.

Chairman of the board Thomas Noonan agreed.

"Once you get them (the new employees) in, you won't take them out," he said.

The board indicated it would study coverage for the new employee next year.

Douglas said he would have the plan ready for the board's approval at the next meeting.

The exact cost will be determined after the first day of school when the teachers will be asked to sign up for the plan.

End of a Landmark

RUBBLE-BOUND—A Daly City landmark, the former Pacific Cement Aggregates mixing plant on Junipero Serra boulevard, north of School street, was on its way to rubble in this view recently. The plant was demolished to make way for the Junipero Serra Freeway. The plant built in the 1920's and rebuilt in 1946. The company has some 20 othere facilities in Northern California.

with the homeowners or a private contractor acting for them.

However, Feyge was told the firm would not permit any delay in removing the rubble that could cause delay on the freeway construction work.

Police Seek Applicants

Daly City will accept applications for the position of police officer until August 28 ,the city manager's office announced last week.

The position has a salary range of $546 to $632 a month.

To qualify a person must have a high school education, be at least 5-foot 9-inches tall, weigh 150 pounds, have correct vision and possess a valid California driver's license.

Applications are being taken at Daly City hall, 75 Wellington street. A written examination is scheduled for September 7.

attorney, grand jury, attorney general and FBI."

None of the outstanding authorities in the field of city government recommend establishing a police-fire commission, he said.

Many have pointed out that it makes no sense to have untrained people advising trained people in their business, according to research conducted by committee members.

The police-fire commission was proposed to give more citizen control.

But with such a commission coming between appointed officials and elected officials, citizens would have less control rather than more control over police and firemen, committee members concluded.

The next logical step officials say, would be to convert the four-lane road into a full-fledged freeway but the state has made no time commitment for construction.

The uninterupted route to San Francisco's Civic center ultimately will be completed with a key linking of the Edgemar freeway directly northeast into the new Southern freeway at Junipero Serra.

The link will eliminate the present detour down Skyline freeway and Alemany boulevard in Daly City. Start of construction on the road is expected within three years.

The state is planning to use excess fill from the Southern freeway to provide the road base for this route.

LATERAL ROADS across the county also are considered important by road planners.

Freeway route 229 connecting the coast with the Bayshore is on the planning boards.

In 1963, the State Highway commission adopted the San Bruno portion of the route and the state now is considering plans for the Pacifica portion. Public hearings are expected to be held late this year.

The route will give Pacificans a vital hookup with Bayside employment areas and San Francisco International airport.

A widening of Edgemar freeway from four to six lanes has been authorized by the State Highway commission to accommodate an expected increase in traffic but no construction date has been set yet.

When the county's $35-million road bond issue was turned down by voters earlier this sum-county laterals went with it.

However, a plan to use monies from the gas tax increase passed by the legislature last month is being considered by the cities and the county board of supervisors.

The plan, authored by Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci, would establish a road fund from these monies. A study upon which the defeated bond issue was formulated would be used as a master plan for roads in the county.

The new thoroughfares which would be built would be extensions of Sharp Park road, Hickey and Westborough boulevards and Fassler drive.

Portions of these roads might be built by private developers and the remainder would need financing from the cities and the county.

Health Unit To Be Aired

Mayor Joseph Verducci will be bringing two items of action from the San Mateo County Council of Mayors to the Daly City council meeting Monday.

The council will discuss resolutions urging the board of supervisors to establish a mental health facility in the North county and establishing a county road fund from monies received from a state gas tax increase.

The council also will study a request for a business license and rezoning from Domenic Belcastro for a motel and motel apartments on land situated on the south side of Westlake avenue and on both sides of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Other items on the tentative agenda include letters of commendation to Mayre Albert and Police Chief Roland Petrocchi, an award of bids for heating of the central fire station and an extension of a license to solicit funds for the Polish Community center.

DR. JULIO BORTOLAZZO, superintendent and president of the College of San Mateo, will be guest speaker at tomorrow's meeting of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce at the Breakers Restaurant. The meeting will begin at noon.

EXCHANGE STUDENT

Argentine Boy To Visit Coast

Julio Alberto Cornaglia Tietze of Argentina will be the guest in Pacifica for the next school year, the Reverend John Fredericks, president of the Pacifica chapter of the American Field Service, has announced.

Julio will stay at the home of former councilman Donald Miller, 139 Blackburn terrace.

Fredericks said the exchange student will attend lcasses at Terra Nova High school where he will have three student sponsors. They are seniors Richard Ballew, Edward Sohl and David Archibald.

The AFS is making a last minute appeal to complete raising $700 to finance Julio's visit.

The organization still needs $105 dollars, the Reverend Mr. Fredericks said.

Donations may esbent to Wells Fargo bank, P. O. Box 748 or may be given to any member of the committee.

Julio, 17, is from the town of San Carlos de Barilocha where his father is a civil service worker and his mother is a primary school headmaster.

His academic interests include literature, psychology, and philosophy and his athletic interests horseback riding, swimming and tennis. His ultimate aim is to be a teacher.

Julio's father is director of a little theater group in his hometown.

The exchange student enjoys writing poetry and won a province poetry contest last year. He lists reading and the theater as hobbies.

Crash Ends Stolen Car Joyride for 2 Brothers

Two Daly City brothers, nine and 12 years old, were arrested last Wednesday night after an auto they had stolen sideswiped three parked vehicles along Hillcrest drive.

The boys were turned over to juvenile authorities.

They were caught by three teen-agers who chased them after the collisions took place and the brothers had attempted to flee.

The parked vehicles were in front of 414 Hillcrest drive. They were owned by Perry Halstead of 144 Hillcrest, William O. Washington of 184 Santa Cruz avenue and Adolphe Vrwelder of 141 Santa Cruz.

The teen-agers who caught the brothers were Timothy R. Harrison, 15, of 162 Hillcrest drive; Charles Hummel, 16, of 149 Hillcrest and George Pressley of 319 San Mateo drive, Daly City.

Harrison and Hummel dashed from their homes after hearing the stolen auto sideswipe the parked vehicles. Pressley was standing on a corner nearby.

Daly City police said the nine-year-old brother had been driving the stolen vehicle. It had been taken from ABC Motors at 6774 Mission street.

GOP Leader Talks About Convention

on arrangements for next year's GOP convention, predicted that the Republicans could win the 1964 election if they get a "fair percentage" of the big city votes.

"We didn't just lose — we got clobbered in the big cities," he said. He suggested that the Republicans have "gained muscle" in metropolitan areas by setting up headquarters, pushing get-out-the-vote campaigns, and directing intensive appeals to minority and labor groups.

As to the party's choice next year for a presidential candidate, Miller said it would be a "wide open" convention with the possibility that a dark horse could win the nomination.

He listed Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky as leading contenders.

"Also there could be a dark horse," Miller said without naming any further possibilities.

Miller said former Vice President Richard Nixon, defeated for president in 1960, will be a convention force as titular head of the GOP.

Miller predicted there would be no faction squabbling at the convention. He said youthful enthusiasm and outdated by-laws caused the raucus at the recent Young Republican convention, also in San Francisco. He denied that the far right has taken over the Young Republicans.

As issues, he added, the Republicans have available all of President Kennedy's 1960 campaign promises "from Berlin to the national debt and civil rights plus an expanded American commitment in a shooting war in Viet Nam."

Our Red Face Is Showing

We've got a red face this week.

On our full page coverage of the San Mateo county Fair and Floral Fiesta last week, we said the fair was open each day at 10 a.m.

That wasn't exactly so. Things got going Friday, opening day, promptly at 6 p.m. instead of 10 a.m. Hours for the remainder of the fair's nine-day stay, through Saturday will be 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

We're sorry if we inconvenienced you. If you did go down early, we think you'll find a second trip well worth while. The fair, they tell us, is a smash hit this year.

Sanitation Unit Okays Connection

The North San Mateo county Sanitation district authorized plans for sewer connections to a proposed new school of the Jefferson Elementary school district Monday.

The school will be located at the east end of Market street.

The district board was notified that its $350,000 sewage outfall line will be ready to be towed out to sea tomorrow morning.

The 2500-foot line was constructed in one piece in San Francisco's Lake Merced Storm tunnel and then connected to the district's sewage system.

Playgrounds Are Popular Places

A total of 70,158 children have taken advantage of the Daly City Department of Recreation summer playground program in the first five weeks of the program this year, department head Charles Vincent told the Park and Recreation Commission.

Specialized classes have drawn 18,338 children and the playgrounds have attracted 51,820 chidren, Vincent said.

Top attraction in the specialized programs have been feature-length movies and cartoon programs. The cartoons have been shown to 6160 youngsters and the movies to 5073.

Playgrounds that have been the busiest are Marchbanks Park with an attendance of 7154, Westlake Park with 5520, the War Memorial Community center with 5123, M. Pauline Brown school with 4346 and Colma school with 4013.

In other business, the commission considered possible recreation facilities in the Christen Ranch lands if the developers decide eventually to come into Daly City.

The city council has requested similar reports from all department heads.

State Will Operate Summer Teen Employment Service

A temporary employment service for teen-agers, operated this week and planned for Monday and Tuesday of next week at Saxe Realty in the Broadmoor Shopping center, will be moved after next week to San Francisco for the remainder of the summer.

A file of applications for employment, filled out by Daly City-Colma teen-agers, will be established in the Employment Youth and Student office of the California State Department of Employment at 1450 Mission street, San Francisco.

Employers in the Daly City area are urged to telephone their requests for summer workers to the state office at PR 6-3850.

A department spokesman this week corrected an erroneous impression that a branch office of the department would be established in Daly City if the temporary service met an enthusiastic response.

The spokesman said that any decision to open a branch office would depend on other factors.

A Summer of 'Firsts'

Enrichment Classes Are Introduced

THE JEFFERSON Union High School district summer school program officially ended Friday with many firsts to its credit.

Of prime importance among these was the introduction of formal enrichment classes into the program.

"The enrichment program has had excellent response, far exceeding our expectations," said Louis Martin, principal of both the summer school and the district's adult education school during the regular school year.

Being taught for the first time were classes entitled: "About Communism," "Aeronautics," "Books and Ideas," "Space Science Technology," and expanded classes in arts and crafts, band, and psychology.

"Normally, the better-than-average or highly motivated students are the ones who sign up for these classes," Martin said.

"Quite often the student may be a 'a red hot' on something like aeronautics and beat out the regular A-student because of his enthusiasm about the subject."

Preliminary work on the enrichment program was accomplished last year when the hand - picked teachers of the classes were notified of their assignments.

"They did advanced research on the program so that the classes would contain the very latest in information," he said.

The teachers were picked because of their professional training or because of their enthusiasm for a particular subject.

The aeronautics class, for example, was taught by Joel Lassegeas who normally teaches auto shop at Jefferson High. He has a commercial pilots license.

Donald Behm, who normally teaches math and physics, has "a tremendous background" in modern literature and taught the "Books and Ideas" class.

The instructor for the "About Communism" class was George Griffen. He teaches social science during the regular school term but is highly motivated about teaching communism, Martin said.

"This is something he can sink his teeth into."

MARTIN'S position as principal of both summer school and adult school for the past two years has given him an opportunity to experiment.

The communism course and the books and ideas class were developed in adult school. They were highly successful and introduced into the summer school curriculum.

Space science, taught by Emmett Tiernan on the other hand, was pioneered in summer school this year and will be introduced into adult school in the fall.

"There is almost an exact parallel between adult education classes and summer school," Martin observed.

"The only difference is in the age. Everything else is just about the same — the teachers, class content and the problems are parallel.

Another first in the summer school was the introduction of student teachers from San Francisco State college to assist 51 regular teachers. Five students are working for their general secondary or master's degrees.

A sixth student, Al d'Amante, served an internship for an administrative credential as dean of boys.

This position and a dean of girls, who was Mrs. Barbara Miller, are also firsts for this year's program.

"They have been of invaluable assistance," Martin said.

Mrs. Miller is head counselor at Terra Nova High school in Pacifica and d'Amante is a teacher in the Acalanes school district in the East Bay.

ALTHOUGH actual figures aren't available yet, it appears the holding power of summer school has increased over last year, Martin said.

A day to day comparison can't be made with last year because the summer school program is five days less this year.

The program was cut from 37 to 32 days because of repairs to Westmoor's water heating system.

Last year, 32,643 or an avrage of 184 students daily attended classes.

Martin said there is a constant upgrading of the summer program.

Through critiques or evaluation sheets requested of the teachers by Martin, the program is constantly being revamped and improved.

Registration will be held from September 10 to 20.

ROCKET FIRING — One of the highlights in Emmett Tiernan's "Space Science Technology" summer school class was a lecture and demonstration of a hybrid rocket by Dr. E. A. Weilmuenster, a scientist from United Technology center, a division of United Aircraft corporation. The class was one of the "first - time" enrichment classes introduced into the Jefferson High School district summer school program. (Post-Times Photo.)

Feyge Asks Gas Tax Monies Use

Pacifica Mayor Harold Feyge has announced he will ask the city council to approve the use of increased gas tax funds for road-building projects deferred by the recent defeat of the city-county road bond issue.

Pacifica could benefit from development of cross-couny laterals, linking the city on the north and south ends with the east side of the Peninsula, he said.

Increased funds will be available as a result of the Collier bill, raising the state gasoline tax from six to seven cents a gallon, a measure signed into law this summer by Governor Edmund Brown.

At their last meeting, the San Mateo county Council of Mayors passed a resolution urging that tax moneys be put into a fund and that projects planned as part of the Nolte highway report be used as a priority list.

Feyge said he believed the gas tax moneys available would be equivalent to that needed for stage one of the Nolte program. Pacifica would benefit primarily through three major routes west to east.

Sharp Park road would be widened to four lanes from Skyline boulevard west to the Nike base and a scenic highway would be constructed, running south along Sweeney ridge, that would connect Sharp Park road with an extension of Fassler drive in Linda Mar.

This would give Linda Mar residents an alternate route from their homes to their jobs. The only route now is the Coast highway.

The Nolte report also called for improvement of Hickey boulevard, giving Pacifica its first northern lateral.

This would begin on Monterey road in Pacific Manor, extend through the Fairmont subdivision and then run from Skyline and Junipero Serra and the existing Hickey boulevard to El Camino.

Toss hot cooked noodles with toasted sesame seeds and any new cheese flavor. Extra-good with grilled meats or fish.

About 40 per cent of the value of U. S. overseas trade and almost one million passengers move through the Port of New York annually.

State Says Sign Will Be Visible

The Daly City planning commission will decide Tuesday on the merits of a billboard on the northeast corner of Junipero Serra boulevard and Citrus avenue.

The commission held the decision over from their last meeting pending receipt of information from the State Division of Highways.

The highway division informed Daly City planning officials that the sign would be visible to drivers from the new Junipero Serra Freeway.

The freeway will be a scenic road depressed at least 15 feet in the area of this intersection.

The application was made by the West Coast Advertising company.

In other action, the commission will consider four zoning applications.

Two of the applications are from Gus Pedemonte, owner of the Cypress Hills Golf course, to establish multiple-dwelling zoning in lots between Eighty-seventh and Eighty-eighth streets and Eighty-eighth and Eighty-ninth streets east of Broadmoor Village.

The city is currently in the process of annexing the area.

Nick Daher of San Francisco and James P. Belk, 700 Niantic avenue, Daly City, are requesting rezonings from single-family to multiple dwellings on properties in the Crocker Estates and on the corner of Westlake and Niantic avenues, respectively.

No. County GOP Invites Weinberger

North county Republicans will gather at the Southern restaurant in South San Francisco at 8 p.m. next Wednesday to hear Caspar W. Weinberger, chairman of the Republican State Central committee.

The South San Francisco-San Bruno Republican assembly is sponsoring Weinberger's appearance.

According to assembly president Raoul A. Vincilione, Weinberger's speech will highlight such topics as the National Republican convention in the Cow Palace next year.

He also will speak on plans to unify the party and to strengthen party lines between all Republican organizations.

Amos Bechtold, retiring chairman of the San Mateo county Central committee, will be master of ceremonies at the dinner.

By LE PACINI

THIS WRITER has become impatient with baseball schools who intimate that it was they who discovered and developed Joe Star when Joe finally makes it in the big time.

These schools generally barnstorm, hit towns for a day, have quick instruction sessions, and choose for an All-Star tryout several boys who supposedly looked good in workouts but who in reality probably were recommended by local amateur coaches and who in all probability made merely token appearances and chose not to listen to basic instruction to which they'd already been submitted for many years.

The schools then play a couple of intra-squad games, with their chosen few, in which each boy gets to play a total of maybe six innings. On this basis they supposedly choose their all-star team.

Usually, about 75 per cent of these teams are already virtually chosen before the tryouts begin. Only a few boys—who perhaps play 100 per cent over their heads on the right day—really make the team on what they did during the intra-squad game.

Ironically, the above methods are the only logical and sane way to choose such all-star teams. Having been connected with such projects both as a player and promoter-publicity man, this writer painfully discovered that at times it's more fair to be unfair.

Suppose major league all-star electors (who come up with their share of boo-boos over an 80-game schedule from which to choose, based their selections on a couple of intra-squad tryouts

Even Stan Musial or Warren Spahn in their primes could have had six lousy innings, and who knows—maybe even Le Pacini could have closed his eyes once and whacked an Early Wynn waste pitch for a homerun. So Pacini would have made it over Musial.

(Brief chuckle at this point.)

The people who run these schools and-or all-star games realize these shortcomings and so they have no choice but to think in the direction of the already proven kids.

We have no objection to these schools. Their instruction, though frantic, is competent and they encourage little kids toward baseball. Our objection is to their crowing when one of "their boys" makes the majors.

THE AMERICAN Legion also is often guilty of such tactics. It's true that the Legion helps many boys to play ball and it's true that many boys who once played for the Legion are now in the majors.

What the American Legion often forgets to mention in the course of its bragging, however, is that almost any teeen-aged ball player worth his salt plays for the Legion almost as a matter of course. Only in rare cases when a boy develops late or has no Legion post anywhere near his town, does he fail to play for the Legion.

In San Francisco, most Legion teams are, in fact, merely summer extensions of certain high school teams, often coached by the boys' high school coaches. Rincon Annex, for instance, is Mission High school.

This is how high school coaches keep their teams playing together in the off-season. While the Legion does a wonderful service in sponsoring these teams and providing these convenient outlets, Legion members seldom have more to do with the team than shag balls, carry bats and keep score.

Yet to hear them tell it, they developed the boys.

We would like to know when major leaguers are going to start giving credit to the playground directors and guys down the street who took them out in the parks and onto the sandlots and taught them the basics and made them play to learn those basics until their britches fell off.

Just as we're sure that no baseball schools or American Legions develop future stars single-handedly, so are we sure that it takes dozens of men from dozens of sources a number of years to develop stars.

But let's give them all credit.

WATCHING Clay Dalrymple recently, Philadelpria's slick young catcher, brought back memories of when we were covering the Far Western conference for San Francisco State college.

We well remember Dalrymple as a fine catcher who we were sure wasn't as good as San Francisco State's Bill Conley. Conley, though smaller than Dalrymple, could run better, hit more consistently and with more power than Clay, and seemed to be just as effective a receiver in a cruder way. And besides, his name was easier to spell.

Now Dalrymple's where he is, and we don't know what ever happened to Conley, and watching Dalrymple whack Juan Marichal around was rather embarrassing.

But then we once thought that Mickey Mantle was over-rated and that Cleveland's Harry "Suitcase" Simpson (seven-year lifetime batting average of .268) was the greatest natural hitter since Ted Williams.

ISN'T IT amazing how many major league ball players can't bunt or round a base properly or throw to the correct cut-off man

This probably stems from the current silly practice of signing guys with size even if they didn't play baseball until they got to college on a basketball or football scholarship.

There's never been a little guy who's gotten a big bonus. But there have been plenty who became great.

Know how many clubs were after Albie Pearson to sign If our memory serves correctly, it was one. The Boston Red Sox. And even they gave up on him.

Baseball is an intricate game. It takes many years to learn. Unfortunately ,there are too many men now in the majors who are still picking up basics. You learn those on the sandlots and in the bus leagues. When you make the major leagues, the learning period is supposed to be over.

This current baseball fad of signing 'em big and rushing 'em fast is tantamount to show business throwing a 20-year-old comedian on stage at the Paladium and teaching him timing from the wings as he goes through his routine.

If the public is required to pay complete major league prices, they should be entitled to see complete major league players.

E. Palo Alto Loses Little League Final

By LOIS McNALLY

Santa Cruz overwhelmed East Palo Alto in the finals of the Little league sectional tournament in Pacifica last weekend, by a score of 9 to 1.

The Santa Cruz team, managed by Dick Ryder and coached by George Vomvolakis, will go to Roseville for the Northern California Little league tournament next weekend.

If they win, they will enter the California state tourney in Sunnyvale and could go on to the national Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa.

In Saturday's championship match, Santa Cruz pitcher Ted McCarroll dominated the game, allowing the East Palo Alto team only one run on four hits.

Hitting star of the game was Santa Cruz catcher Gary Chidinelli who hit a homerun and drove in two runs in the sixth and final inning.

In the first round of the three-day tournament, the Santa Cruz boys beat Santa Clara's Little Leaguers 2-1.

The East Palo Alto te stopped the San Jose team 4-1. In a consolation match San Jose beat Saint Clara 2 to 0.

Pacifica, hosting its first Little league sectional tournament, enthusiastically welcomed the young players.

One Little league official estimated that some 2500 Pacificans came to see the games and said extra bleachers had to be brought in to White Field.

The visiting baseball players were guests in Pacifica homes. Thursday night the Pacifica Little league entertained them at a dinner at Sanchez school and Friday the boys were taken on a sightseeing tour of San Francisco.

Saturday morning, the boys were feted at a pancake breakfast at Sanchez school.

Pacifica Little league officers in charge of the tourney were Clay Thompson, president; Nino Bisio, vice president; Joe Grasso, secretary; and Lucky Eldred, treasurer.

Mayor Harold Feyge and the Pacifica city council officially declared the week of July 28 to August 3 Little League week in Pacifica.

Clodhoppers Top League

The Clodhoppers, with a 3-1 record and 19 points, remained on top of the long division of the summer high school basketball league sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

The undefeated Clippers and Celtics with 3-0 records and 15 points hold down second place.

The Clodhoppers rallied in the second half behind Ed Larios, Mark Perry and Steve Willis to down a tough Whaler team 40-37 last week.

The Celtics stopped a scrappy Ram five 50-45 and the Clippers romped to an 81-41 victory over the Gunners. The Rascals nipped the Rangers 33-31 in overtime.

In the Celtic-Ram game it was Brent MacLaren's 16 points and clutch rebounding which made the difference.

Willie Jones' 18 points in the first half sparked the Clipper's 81-41 victory over the gunners. It was the second time the high-flying Clippers had exceeded 80 points.

In the overtime thriller between the Rascals and the Rangers, Larry Kincade sank three clutch baskets in the fourth quarter and Ted Brodd the tying basket with 15 seconds to go.

Brodd led the overtime scoring with three points while Dave Westphal and Bill Wippercht each scored a basket.

Legion Team Gains Finals

An American Legion Post baseball team, co-sponsored by Daly City businessman Joseph Sarto Sr. and the San Francisco Police department, qualified for Legion state finals Sunday when it defeated Concord 7-0 in a playoff game.

Joseph Gualco, St. Ignatius righthander, allowed Concord five hits while striking out seven in the win.

Concord forced the playoff by defeating the San Francisco team in an earlier contest 7-1. Westmoor High's Bruce Hix pitched two innings of relief.

In language and custom, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Iceland, the Faeroe Islands and part of Finland are considered Scandinavian.

DICK RENTSCHLER'S 180 average went by the boards Tuesday night as he joined the ultra-exclusive Westlake 700 club. He bowled games of 222-265 and 243 for a 730 series as he led the American Masters 900 Scratch league.

The new Renon Trio league was led by Don Gilliam as he rolled a 227 game and 641 series.

Opening day leader in the first annual Ora Swanson Southpaw tournament was Dave Folb with a 549 series. Entries are coming from all parts of the Bay Area for this doubles and singles tournament exclusively for lefthanders. The tournament runs until September 1.

Laurie Lausmann led the Tuesday morning trio Sweepstakes Day with a 168 game and 463 series.

In the 815 Scratch league, Ed King took top honors for the week with a 192 game and 568 series.

Bunny Lou led the Starliters league on the final night of competition with a 204 game and 495 series.

Emily Drago took first prize of $7 in the Monday afternoon 3-6-9 Sweeper with a 740 total. Second prize went to Mae Dreier while Mary Miller took third. The prize for high game out of the money ended in a tie between Kay French and Rose Oster with Evelyn Goldkuhl taking home the mystery prize.

Although he rolled a terrific 257 game, Gregg Staudt missed membership in the 600 club by three pins as he led the Golden Gate Handicap league for the week.

Gloria Roza and Jim Henderson were the week's leaders in the Southgate Mixed Fives league as Gloria rolled 177 and 450 while Jim shot 200 and 549.

★ ★ ★

THE LATEST in tournament bowling started Monday and runs until September 2 in the form of a No-Tap tournament. With daily, weekly and rolloff prizes, there are many opportunities for bowlers to take home cash prizes. In order to be eligible for the weekly rolloffs, it is necessary to have bowled once during the week.

Leading the B'nai B'rith bowlers for the week was Mort Cahen as he shot a 194 game and 548 series.

Sally Johnson was the leading lady of the Emporium Stonestown league as she bowled a 178 game and 429 series.

Two repeaters were on top Tuesday night as Marge Neve with 211-587 again led the Ladies 650 Classic and George Xavier with 190-518 topped the Early Fives for the second consecutive week.

Westlake Bowlers are forming teams for the upcoming Northern California Mixed Fours at Walnut Bowl this month.

John Var topped the Country Club Handicap for the week with a 183 game and 530.

Another upcoming event for Westlake Bowlers is the California State Fair tournament where bowlers compete in specially-built outdoor lanes at the Fair. We have reserved four spots for men and four for ladies.

Serra Bowl

WHERE AND when did bowling originate? What do bowlers mean when they talk about "timing"? How do you keep score? Why bowl? What is the A.B.C. and W.I.B.C.? If any of you readers would like to find out the answers to thsee and other questions or if you'd simply like to learn to bowl, call WY 2-3444 and sign up with Fred Hoffman for the Serra bowl "Learn to Bowl" program. Free classes begin today at 1 p.m.

The X-Ray incorporated team swept all four points from the Automatic Sprinkler bunch in last Monday's Metropolitan league bowling. Ron Scheer tallied tops for the winners (and also the league) with a strong 252-592 series. Walt Jenssen made the best effort for the losers with his 485 trio. For another item well worth mention, we find that the Dinks team toppled the Tip Toppers for a 4-0 win on Dennis Coffin's 223-575 tally.

In 810 scratch action Gary Neil pounded out a fine 209-570 series to lead Brandi's Fords to a 3-1 win over Michaels' Contractors.

Dee Golobic and Ellie Torrrigino shared individual honors in the ladies' 300 Scratch doubles this week with each gal totaling 512 for three. Ellie also bagged high game of the day with a comfortable 201 single ton.

RON RAETA was the big gun for Susie's Do-Nuts in the 850 Scratch league as he banged out a 236-555 series to lead his boys in a 3-0 victory over Dick's Tower. It was the fellas on Eakin and Eakin, however, who proved to be the real high rollers as Dave Durkin powered a 237-624 total while Ron Papparelli followed close behind with a 207-609. Needless to say, Cristoni's Mobi Corner team was the victim of a 3-0 defeat.

Dan Galba, bowling for the Molar Menders team in the Tuesday Nightowls league, "drilled" (good grief, what a bad pun!) a terrific 612 series on a trio of 200 games as his 200, 201, and 211 scores helped his team to a 2-1 win over the Tunas.

In 775 Boozers action, Dave Pickard tallied 225-545 and Charles Martucci blasted 206-575 for the S. F. Silents to score a 4-0 win over the Sullivan Sport shop whose best effort was a 502 by Bob Neil.

Frank Rosich picked up high individual game and series honors in the Sharpshooters league this week with his 237-553 kegling while pacing his Paoli's Meat company team to a 3-1 win over Colma Metas.

Sea Bowl

WE HAD a ball again a week ago Monday night during the blackout splits and misses. Lots of money won, so why don't you come down Monday at 8:30 p.m. and join the fun!

Our king and queen of the month tournament will be Saturday and Sunday at 1 p.m., 3:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. Be sure and check the display board to see if your name is there and also ask at the desk if you have any questions pertaining to the tournament. Now for the outstanding league scores:

Yawners: Rita Harris 184-483, Janine Freylack 141, Arlyce Baker 143-146, Lenore Lewis 195-159. Ball and Chain: John Park, 178-168-160. BAD BREAKS

Fair Loses In Junior Golf Meet

Daly City golfer Jim Fair was defeated in a marathon 22-hole match in the second round of the National Junior Golf championships in Florence, S. C., last week.

He was beaten by Harvey Cook of Memphis.

Fair was the victim of misfortune as a sudden deluge of rain between the 21st and 22nd hole wet the handles of his club and it slipped from his hand when he teed off. His drive went only 30 yards.

Fair, Westmoor High's number one golfer for the past two seasons, made the second round by downing Richard Hoak o fSioux City, Iowa, 3 and 2.

Two holes earlier, Fair's caddie had leaned on the golfer's putter and broke it. Fair finished the hole with a six-iron.

The two golfers played even throughout the match and went into "sudden-death" play when they were still tied, at the 18th hole.

By competing in the finals, Fair earned a 60th place ranking among national golfers and a third place ranking in Northern California.

The berth automatically qualifies him for the California State Junior championships to be played at the Lake Merced Golf and Country club August 27-30.

Fair, meanwhile, has entered the O'Brien tournament in San Mateo.

Knights Lead Summer Loop

After three weeks of play the Knights have emerged as leaders of the short division of the high school summer basketball league sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department, with a 3-0 record and 15 points.

The Hawks and Half Pints, also undefeated, trail with 2-0 records and 10 points.

In last week's action the Knights downed the Challengers 42-34 behind the 10-point scoring efforts of Jim Belfrage and Dennis Jew. Steve Zarate was game high man with 12 points for the Challengers.

Paul Barnhart's 18 points and Captain Bill McPhillip's playmaking led the Linda Mars to a 34-23 victory over the Breakers.

In other play the Half Pints won a forfeited game from the Nats and the Nats downed the Hawks in a practice game. In this week's top action the Half Pints will take on the Knights in a battle for first.

Ready and Waiting

HE WAS OUT—East Palo Alto second baseman is ready and waiting for Landis Burns of Santa Cruz as Burns slides into second during the championship game of the Little league sectional tournament in Pacifica last week. Burns was tagged out but Santa Cruz went on to win the game, 9-1, and to take the tournament title. (Post-Times photo)

Tri-City 2nd Round Ready

The second round of the Tri-City Summer Baseball league, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department, gets underway, Saturday.

Going with four teams—Jefferson AC, Westmoor BYA, San Francisco Saints and South Sunset AC—the second round will feature a double round robin play.

Should the second-round champions be any team other than the Saints, first round winners, a one game play-off will be held to determine the league championship.

Saturday's first game will see the Saints meeting South Sunset AC at Marchbanks park at 3 p.m.

Top Bay Area Judoists To Complete Here Sunday

Westmoor High school's gymnasium will become judo headquarters of the north county Sunday.

More than 250 of the top judo athletes in the Bay Area will compete in the final preliminaries of the American Athletic Union Junior Olympic Judo tournament.

First and second place winners will be eligible to compete in a championship tournament later in Palo.

The competition at Westmoor will be sponsored by the Northern California Judo Black Belt association nad the Koyukan Judo club.

It will be open to any boy, 16 years of age and younger, who is a registered member of the Pacific association of the AAU. Registration forms may be obtained the morning of the tournament at the high school.

Weigh-ins will be from 11 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. The first bout will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Drag Racing Program Set

The world's fastest sports car in drag racing will perform Sunday at the Tri County Drag strip in Half Moon Bay.

Roger Hardcastle of San Jose owns the car. It is powered by a super - charged Chrysler engine and has exceeded 140 miles per hour from a standing start in the quarter mile.

Activities will begin at 8:30 a.m. Eliminations start at 12:30 p.m.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

THE SAN MATEO county Fair is in full swing now and I hope many of my readers go down to see the lovely flower exhibits and also visit the home economics division to see the many goodies on display there.

This week, I'm going to use some of the recipes that I've received from you good cooks and haven't been able to work into the column before. I do appreciate you sending them and it's a pleasure to share them with everyone.

This recipe came from Mrs. Virginia Lakin of 711 Noriega way, Pacifica. She writes that it's inexpensive (especially for a large group) and a good Friday dish. She says it has no name—so we'll just call it Tuna Dish.

TUNA DISH

1 cup diced celery
1 can tuna (Pour hot water over to remove oil)
1 can bean sprouts
½ cup diced onion
1 can mushroom soup
1 can Chow Mein noodles
¼ cup water
4 ounces sliced almonds (optional)

Mix all together and bake at 325 degrees for 45 to 60 minutes.

If you like a rich, rich dessert this is your dish. It comes from Mrs. Bea Sherman, 5624 Anza street, San Francisco, and it is truly delicious. The only quarrel I have with the recipe is its claim to serve 12. Not in my sweets-loving family! The results resemble a praline in appearance and texture and is just about the best thing you ever ate.

It would indeed serve 12 at a ladies luncheon where a smaller portion is the rule. But if you are making this for dessert lovers — plan on 2 each, topped with whipped cream or topping ice cream.

BAKED FUDGE DESSERT

¼ lb. butter
1 Tbsp. cocoa
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup sugar
2 Tbsp. flour
Pinch of salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts.

Melt butter, add cocoa, eggs, sugar, flour, salt and vanilla. Stir well and add nuts.

Grease 12 muffin pans well. Place in deep cookie sheet of hot water. Cook in hot water in 350 degree oven for 30 to 40 minutes. (Test to see if done.) Let set for a few minutes. Run knife around inside of each, putting knife down bottom of each to help get them out nicely. Turn out on wax paper. Serve decorated with bit of whipped cream on top. (Nice served in sherbet glasses or small dessert dishes). Can be made the day before.

THESE COOKIES also are from Bea's record file and I'm sure you'll agree this is a different way to make cookies.

SKILLET COOKIES

1 pkg. dates (7 oz.) cut-up
1 cube butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs well beaten
½ cup nuts, chopped
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups rice crispies, heaping

In large sauce pan, combine dates, butter, sugar and eggs. Cook and stir over low flame for 15 minutes, stirring constantly. This mixture gets very thick.

Pour the rice cripsies in a large bowl, add the nuts and vanilla. Mix. Then add to cooled mixture. When cool enough to handle, roll in balls and then roll in coconut flakes. These cookies will keep 10 days—if they last that long.

Benefit Show Aids Handicapped

BENEFIT SHOW — Sharon McMillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. McMillian of 1393 Sullivan avenue, Daly City, poses with two pure bred Arabian horses that performed in an Easter Seal benefit program Saturday and Sunday at the Cow Palace. Sharon is the 1963 Easter Seal theme youngster for the Society for Crippled Children and Adults of San Mateo county. This photo was taken at the Vallemar ranch of Robert Hooper, owner of the horses shown here.

New Courses Are Planned

With greatly expanded facilities on the new College Heights campus, a number of new instructional programs will be instituted during 1963-64 at College of San Mateo.

The greatest impact on programs and instructional methods will result from the use of San Mateo's broadcasting facilities, television station KCSM-TV and radio station KCSM-FM.

Headed by Dr. Jacob Wiens, director of the college of the air, the telecommunications division will be developed to offer a full range of closed and open circuit instruction, edication and community services, and broadcasting training for students. Class offerings in telecommunications will include an introductory course in broadcasting communications, plus studio techniques, announcing, and production, along with courses in the electronics division on theory, construction, installation, and maintenance of broadcasting equipment.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

CURRENTLY ENJOYING an exciting tour of the Southwest are Mrs. Connie Mason and Mrs. Marian Ballew, Pacifica civic and social leaders who have been selected by the Army to take part in Operation Understanding.

The pair are among a large group of Northern California women who left yesterday from Hamilton Air Force Base in Marin county to tour Army installations in El Paso, view missile firings on the White Sands testing grounds, inspect the Air Force academy in Colorado and visit the headquarters of the North American Defense Organization in the same state.

Purpose of this marvelous trip is to develop more interest and appreciation in the activities of the U. S. Army and, according to at least one previous tour member, it should succeed admirably.

George Mason, Pacifica city councilman and former mayor, was a member of a similar group when the Cuban crisis flared and disrupted normal procedures on all military reservations. Mason and the other members of the group were immediately flown home but several months later the Army reassembled the men and flew them to Colorado to complete the tour.

Mrs. Ballew and Mrs. Mason will be feted at a number of cocktail parties and receptions and treated to a shopping spree in Mexico before they return sometime Saturday afternoon.

"I'm taking my camera," Mrs. Mason announced prior to takeoff, "and I plan to take lots and lots of pictures so when we get back I can give a good and thorough report on what we saw to anyone who is interested."

☆ ☆ ☆

HOME AGAIN after a pleasant week at the Lear of the Bear, the U. C. alumni camp in the high Sierra, are Mr. and Mrs. William Ross and their children, Billy, Larry, Debra and Diane.

THE COMMITTEE selecting models for the Memory Lane Fashion Show, being planned by the Mother's club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help school, is still on the lookout for one more male model and several male escorts.

To date, Carl Rollandi, Earl Hethcoat and James Healy have consented to model in the show. They will be assisted by Mrs. Tony Ricci, Mrs. Edmund Kollman, Mrs. Alfred Galliano, Mrs. Kenneth Martin, Mrs. Richard MacDouglas, Mrs. Earl Hethcoat, Mrs. Harlan Miller, Mrs. Jerze Warcholski, Mrs. Salvatore Mangano, Mrs. Dorothy Moren, Mrs. James Healy and Mrs. Edward Cereghino. All will model attire in the show.

Mrs. Dorothy Bergin, publicity chairman, has announced that reservations should be made now by calling Mrs. Joseph Drew, PL 5-3382 or Mrs. William McGuire, PL 5-0785. Tickets reserved now may be picked up and paid for in September, Mrs. Bergin said..

☆ ☆ ☆

HOME ONCE more, after an operation and a week long stay in San Francisco's St. Joseph's hospital, is Raymond Fellman of Daly City.

According to Mrs. Fellman, he is recovering nicely from surgery but will be unable to return to work before September.

Still badly shaken as a result of an automobile accident in Daly City last week is Mrs. Sylvia Steinbach.

Mrs. Steinbach suffered a cracked rib and back injury in the accident and has been plagued by a headache since the collision with another automobile set the car she was driving spinning about at an intersection.

MRS. OLLIE BLEVINS, Archdiocesan chairman of public relations for the Catholic Daughters of America, has announced that Richard Egan, Pat Moran and Jack Haley will join with Lauretto McAuliffe, Annette Brophy Jacobs, Chris Piazza, Alice Mori, the San Francisco Police Pipers band, the Jack Fisher orchestra, the Cable Singers and Turk Murphy and his Dixieland band in the cast of the musical, "Parade of Stars and Tea," to be held August 24 at St. Patrick's seminary in Menlo Park.

Mrs. Francis Kearney is chairman of the affair being given by Bay Area courts to benefit a student education fund. Mrs. Stella Haensgen is co-chairman and program chairman.

Persons attending the gala will be asked to donate $5 to the fund, Mrs. Blevins announced.

Reservations may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Charles Wetttstein at LO 4-9511.

Divine Services

Family Stations Minister To Give Talk at Westside

The Rev. James Siebert, assistant to the director of Family Stations incorporated in San Francisco, will be the guest speaker at Westside Baptist church Sunday, August 11, at both the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services.

The Rev. Mr. Siebert is a graduate of Simpson Bible college and Seattle Pacific college.

For nine years he was an administrative assistant at the King's Gardens Inc. in Seattle.

He was in charge of the high school and the Bible institute. He also was the institutional engineer. Prior to joining the staff of Family Stations, he was pastor of an Alliance church in Ontario, Calif.

Sunday, the pastor, the Rev. A. David Donnelly, along with a number of junior high and senior high youths, will be at Hume Lake attending the Northern California Baptist conference camp for both of these groups.

The pastor has been asked to act as dean for the junior high camp, meeting at Long Meadow lodge camp site.

About 200 young people of junior high school age from twenty three churches of the Northern California Baptist conference, will attend this week-long camp.

At the same time, the senior high camp will convene at the main camp site.

The Rev. Roger Youngquest, pastor of First Baptist church, Kingsburg, will be the camp director. His assistant, the Rev. John Reed, will be dean.

The Rev. Cully Olson, pastor of First Baptist church in Simi Valley, California will be a special speaker, and Alton Swedberg, Sunday school superintendent of Westside Baptist church will be the director of music.

Approximately 200 youths are expected to attend this camp.

A prayer and Bible study session will be held at 7:45 tonight at the James Besser home, 500 Del Monte avenue in South San Francisco.

Guest Talks Are Planned

Jay Spoonheim, a student at the Pacific Lutheran Seminary in Berkeley, will deliver sermons at Westlake Lutheran church August 12 and 25.

During this time, Kenneth Hansen, pastor of the church, will be away with his family on vacation.

At Sunday's morning service, the Rev. Mr. Hansen will discuss the topic: "God Freely Forgives."

The church's A. L. C. W. group will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday, August 20, in the church. Mrs. Alpha Jaranson will present a Bible study talk on "Jesus Christ—The Same."

Mrs. Lois Kornahrens will discuss: "Social Action." Hostesses will be Mrs. Dorothy Greenstrand and Mrs. Ruth Hdgskiss.

The Luther league has been invited by the young people of the church to a beach party at 2:30 p.m. August 18 at Bean Hollow.

Sisterhood Plans Event

The Sisterhood of Temple B'nai Israel will conduct its annual membership program at 7 p.m. Saturday, September 5.

The program will be a barbeque dinner at the home of Mildred Hart at 225 Del Monte avenue in South San Francisco.

Phyllis Ehrlich will direct a skit as entertainment for the evening. Reservations may be made by calling PL 5-8926 or WY 2-4258.

'Horizons' Talk Set

Temple Judea will hold its regular Sabbath evening services at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the temple, 95 South Mayfair avenue in Daly City.

Rabbi Herbert Morris will speak on the topic "New Horizons." He will discuss the changing role of the synagogue in today's society —with special emphasis on the importance of the temple's new building on Brotherhood way.

Mrs. Charles Wine will perform the candle blessing ceremony. Hostesses for a social session after the services will be Laverne Clement and Mrs. Harold Skootsky.

Rabbi Shore to Conduct Class

Rabbi Solomon Shore of Congregation B'nai Israel will conduct a beginners Bar Mitzvah class each Wednesday at 4 p.m.

Membership in Temple B'nai Israel is now open, according to Rabbi Shore. Reservations for Sunday and Hebzrew classe are being accepted.

Members joining now will be eligible to attend the forthcoming holiday services.

Youth Rally To See Film

A film on the life of John Noble, entitled "The Vanished," will be presented at a rally of the Youth for Christ of Greater San Francisco at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, August 17, in the War Memorial auditorium at McAllister street and Van Ness avenue, San Francisco.

Noble was a prisoner of the communists for nine years before being released.

A Hopeful Toss . . .

BIG HEAVE — Four-year-old Craig Mieras of 467 St. Francis boulevard heaves a ball (upper left) toward a barrel during a penny carnival at Abraham Lincoln school. Watching the ball is his brother, Dean, 6. Carnival was sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department. It was one of several planned at playgrounds this summer. (Post-Times Photo.)

. . . And a Big Windup

WINDUP — Steven Taylor of 8 Shelbourne avenue, Daly City, left, winds up for what he hopes will be an accurate toss in a game at the penny carnival at Abraham Lincoln school playground. The youngster at his side who seems to be unconcerned about it all is Michael Brandi of 436 Higate drive, Daly City. (Post-Times photo)

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco: I am 18 years old and my boy friend is 19. We want to get married October 12 .He is going into the Army for two years and he will be in boot camp September 1, so I will do the wedding plans and then I will go wherever he is stationed.

My parents think I am foolish. They want me to put off the wedding until he is out of service and has a job. That's a long wait. We love each other and want to get married now. What do you think? I feel an outsider can see better than my parents.

Confused

Dear Confused: You want me to tell you to get married October 12. Snap out of this dream world you are in and face a few facts:

YOU WON'T be able to just pick up and leave every time he is transferred.

CHILDREN may come along and you can't pack them up and travel all over the country.

THE GROOM is important in planning a wedding too. He should be planning this with you.

HE IS going into the army. What happens at the end of his two-year hitch? What about a job.

CAN HE support a family? Can he get a job right away?

No, my friend, if you really love him as you say you do, then work until he is out of the service and has grown up some (mentally).

While he is in the army and you are working, save your money and when he is out, get married and buy yourselves a home and have a big wedding. Furniture and a wedding cost a lot of money. And a couple just starting out need all they can get. No matter what anybody says, you acnnot live on love.

They say love is blind and yours is a good example. You are blinded now by emotion and are not being logical. Two years will go by fast if you are working and saving.

You are not being fair to each other. Give him a chance to find himself. Don't nail him down or you will be a sorry couple in the years ahead.

What can happen if you wait? Or are you afraid your love isn't strong enough to test the power of time? Are you afraid you'll change your mind? Are you getting married just to show your parents they're wrong?

If you love him as much as you say you do, then do him and yourself a favor and wait until he is out and settled. You have nothing to lose by waiting. Don't let emotion run you.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco: I am 14 years old and I am taking a girl to a movie and it's my first date. What should I do? What should I wear? We are going to a downtown San Francisco show. I don't want to take her to a bad picture. I'm really nervous. Please help me.

Inexperienced

Dear Inexperienced: I could have guessed you were nervous since you sent this letter special delivery. I'll start by saying relax, she is probably more nervous than you are. Just use these tips as a guide:

DON'T forget to be polite.

ACT natural.

TALK about things you have in common.

INQUIRE about her interests and hobbies.

MAINTAIN neatness in appearance.

GET HER home at the time her parents tell you.

As for what to wear, if you go see a downtown movie, I would suggest you dress up and wear a tie, be sure in any case to tell her where you are going so she can dress accordingly.

You see, if you plan an evening, it always goes a lot smoother. Never go on a date and not know where oyu are going.

Airport Pace Outruns New Construction

San Francisco's huge International Airport is busily getting bigger—but even that may not be big enough.

Airport officials said the new South Terminal is proceding on schedule and should be ready for its public opening in mid-September.

Passenger auto traffic has been re-routed so that departing airlines customers swing up a rampway in front of the new terminal, for direct access to ticket counters in the main lobby. Cars to pick up arriving passengers approach the terminal at ground level, but farther out than formerly.

Because work has started on a tunnel which will lead from the main terminal to the upcoming underground garage, the roadway immediately in front of the terminal building is blocked off. In it, a pile driver is shoving steel pilings into the ground to reinforce the tunnel structure.

Excavation also has started in the former parking lot area, as work on the garage facility gets going.

With the new quarters almost ready for occupancy by airlines, San Francisco officials heard over the weekend that air traffic has climbed so much that the proposed North Terminal may be needed by 1969.

Now, the question is, where to put the cargo terminal buildings that presently occupy the space to be taken for the North Terminal?

The plan has been to shuffle them southward to a filled - in area between Old Bayshore and the extended north-south runway.

Airport officials are wondering how they can finance the $30,000,000 fill-in project, especially since San Mateo county has proposed to triple airport property taxes.

This, they feel, would so hinder them that they will not be able to finance the rapid development needed to meet increasing traffic growth.

Meanwhile, plans for a grand opening of the new terminal are proceding and the outlook for a need for continued expansion remains optimistic.

Coast Mulls Sign Rules

A joint meeting of the Pacifica planning commission and city council last week wrestled with a proposed new sign ordinance and a new zoning ordinance. No conclusions were reached.

The council plans to hold further meetings on the ordinances under study.

The city presently is using a county sign ordinance which forbids erection of signs above building lines, and requires the sign to conform with the architecture of the building involved.

Due to the hilly nature of parts of Pacifica, which ranges from mountain sides to areas below highways, the sign ordinance has developed considerable discussion

Several restaurants and similar businesses have sought more freedom in the erection of signs; on the other hand, residents have had a "go slow" attitude about any changes in the ordinance.

Start of Construction

Bank Building Underway

Construction began last week on a new building for the First National Bank of Daly City at 6600 Mission street.

The building, being constructed across the street from the War Memorial Community center, will be one story high with a mezzanine, according to John Varni, president of the bank.

The bank is the first home-owned national bank in Daly City and the only independent bank in San Mateo county.

The building will have 4000 square feet on the main lobby and will have spaces for 14 teller windows. A private conference room is also included in the plans.

Parking spaces for 25 vehicles and a drive-in window will be provided.

Michael Inan, is the designer of the new building and Stevenson Pacific incorporated, is the general contractor.

The bank now has temporary quarters at 150 San Pedro avenue.

The board of directors and organizers of the bank are all local businessmen. They are chairman Ricco Lagomarsino, and directors Gerald Mincher, Harry Curusis, Lawrence Vannucci and Elton McGraw.

RANDOLPH KRUGER of 217 St. Francis boulevard, Daly City, has been named manager of the Alec Membership Shopping center in Menlo Park. He had been manager of the company's first store in Colma since November of 1962. He is a graduate of Hofstra college in Hempstead, L. I.

Firm Moves

Mercury Ambulance Service began moving its office and equipment Monday to new quarters at 380 Washington street in Daly City.

The company has been located at 808 Higate drive in Daly City for the past three years.

A spokesman said the company's phone numbers would remain the same: WY 2-1644 and PL 6-7455.

July Building in D.C. Lags Behind Last Year

During the month of July, the Daly City Building Inspector's Office issued 67 permits with an estimated construction valuation of $673,958.

The figures slipped from July of last year when 80 permits were issued for construction with an estimated valuation of $711,143.

The 67 permits included 16 new homes expected to cost a total of $224,290, two apartment houses, expected to cost $206,000, and the First National bank of Daly City, expected to cost $154,000.

The seven-month cumulative totals of 566 permits and estimated construction costs of $4,448,093 trailed last year's total for the same period.

During the first seven months in 1962, a total of 618 permits with an estimated construction value of $5,752,958 were issued by the office.

The building of new homes in July slipped slightly from last year when 20 permits for construction estimated at $312,601 were issued. In July of 1962, one apartment house was built at a cost of $45,000.

8 Permits Are Given

Eight building permits with an estimated construction value of $17,435, were issued last week by the Daly City Building Inspector's office.

For the first time in several weeks, no permits for new homes were issued.

Permits were issued to:

Albin L. Anderson, 635 St. Francis boulevard, to add a patio cover.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bingaman, 658 St. Francis boulevard, to build playroom in basement.

Joseph Lufrano, 324 Santa Barbara avenue, to add aluminum siding and cast stone, to raise foundation and to construct a new stair landing.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Adams, 47 Fairview avenue, to add new foundation to conform with code.

Fred Ziegler, 263 San Fernando way, to build playroom and den.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McGrath, 105 East Vista street, to add bedroom.

Neville Ford, 6100 Mission street, to move sign.

Personnel Unit Slates Meeting

The Daly City personnel board will discuss an old item and a new one at its regular meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Daly City council chambers.

The board will take up the layoff policy of the city and the duties of the newly created position of assistant fire chief.

France Film To Be Shown

The second in a series of three travel movie programs offered by the Westlake Panorama Travel service at 34 Park Plaza drive will be given at 7:30 tomorrow night at Westlake bowl.

The free program will be presented in conjunction with Trans World Airlines. A 30-minute movie will show scenes of France in spring, summer and winter.

The third program, about Italy, will be given August 22.

D.C. Residents Are Naturalized

Five Daly City residents were among 121 persons who became naturalized citizens of the United States last week in San Francisco federal district court.

They are: Mrs. Renee Engle from Germany; Hans Krauber from Switzerland; Mario Gonzalez Mora from Mexico; Erwin Wolfgang Heinrich Putrich from Austria and Mrs. Renate Kate Putrich from Germany.

Optimists to Attend Follies

The Lake Merced Optimist club will attend a performance of the Ice Follies at Optimist Night at the Follies tomorrow evening.

The club has decided to continue to hold its meetings at Westlake Bowl. Next week's luncheon speaker will be a battalion chief of the Daly City Fire department.

GAS SIPHONED

John Mahoney of 255 Bellevue avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had siphoned gasoline from his auto, parked in front of his home.

Injured Swim Star Is On Road to Recovery

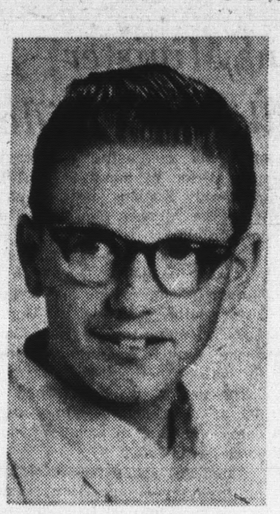
Michael Cristofani, 16-year-old Terra Nova champion swimmer and bowler who was severely injured at Pedro beach last month, is improving slowly at Peninsula hospital, his spirits kept up by a flood of cards from classmates and companions.

His grandmother, Mrs. Mary Cristofani, said Mike will be in traction for another three weeks and that the family still is not sure when he will be able to come home.

Completely paralyzed after the accident in which his neck was broken, the youth now has regained use of his arms and legs with only a weakness remaining in his right hand.

Mrs. Cristofani says the family has been overwhelmed by the thoughtfulness and concern of many Pacificans who have visited Mike and sent him more than 100 cards.

"He especially loves the funny get-well cards his high school chums have sent him," she said, "and wants to make a scrapbook out of them. He says he just didn't realize how many friends he has."



MICHAEL CRISTOFANI
He's Recovering

She explained her grandson is not in any pain but is very uncomfortable since he has to lie either flat on his back or on his stomach.

He is cheerful, however, and insists on feeding himself even though it's awkward for him.

Mike was injured while driving into the surf when he misjudged the depth of a wave and struck his head on sand in shallow water.

Recently, he received a pair of glasses that enable him to see from any position.

Now he watches television and can see "something besides the light in the ceiling," as he puts it.

Mike also told his grandmother he was happy to get a better look at his nurses, whom he learned to recognize at first only by their shoes — since that was all he could see from his position then.

One of his roommates at first was another Fourth of July casualty, former Pacifica city employee John Cristich, who was hurt while supervising a fireworks display. Cristich came back to visit Mike after he was discharged, Mrs. Cristofani said.

County's Cities Spend $22-Million in 1961-62

Total expenditures of the 17 cities in San Mateo county for 1961-62 reached $22,123,108 according to studies by California Taxpayers' association of reports made to the state controller.

This is an increase of $4,926,082 in the two-year period since 1959-60 when the total of city expenditures in the county reached $17,197,026.

A portion of the increase was brought about by the addition of newly incorporated Brisbane for which figures were not included in the 1959-60 year.

Throughout the state, city expenditures reached $1,036,040,617 for the year ending June 30, 1962, or $157,208,637 more than the 366 cities which reported for 1959-60.

Statewide, cities spent $169,410,926 in 1961-62 for police protection. Fire protection cost $123,744,120.

Other major spending items were: streets, storm drains and street lighting $152,193,529; parks and recreation $95,085,704; interest and redemption of debt $88,966,1290 and health service $24,787,125. Of particular interest to the taxpayer is a $68,872,164 cost for employe retirement.

EDCI Bank Funds Rise

Mounting resources of federally insured banks are a measure of the dynamic strides in the economy of the Federal Deposit insurance corporation's twelfth district, according to Walter W. Smith, district supervising examiner at San Francisco.

The twelfth district which covers eight states and the island of Guam in the Marianas, is the largest geographically of FDIC's 12 districts.

The states are Alaska, California, Hawaii, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington.

FDIC insures 366 banks, and 2839 branches in the district. The list includes 10 banks and 40 branches in Alaska; 123 banks and 1963 branches in California; seven banks and 105 branches in Hawaii; 31 banks and 93 branches in Idaho; seven banks and 45 branches in Nevada; 48 banks and 213 branches in Oregon; 45 banks and 83 branches in Utah; 95 banks and 334 branches in Washington, and three branches in Guam. There are only 21 uninsured banks in the district.

Smith cited latest FDIC figures showing that the deposit of insured banks in the 12th district exced $38.452 billion, an increase of nearly $2.6 billion in a year's time.

In the same period assets of the district's insured banks increased nearly $3.298 billion to over $42.8 billion.

WHEELS STOLEN

Taraval Used Cars at 7545 Mission street, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had taken two tires and wheels from an auto, parked in the company's lot.

Chief industries of India are textiles, chemicals and steel.

The Fishin' Was Great!

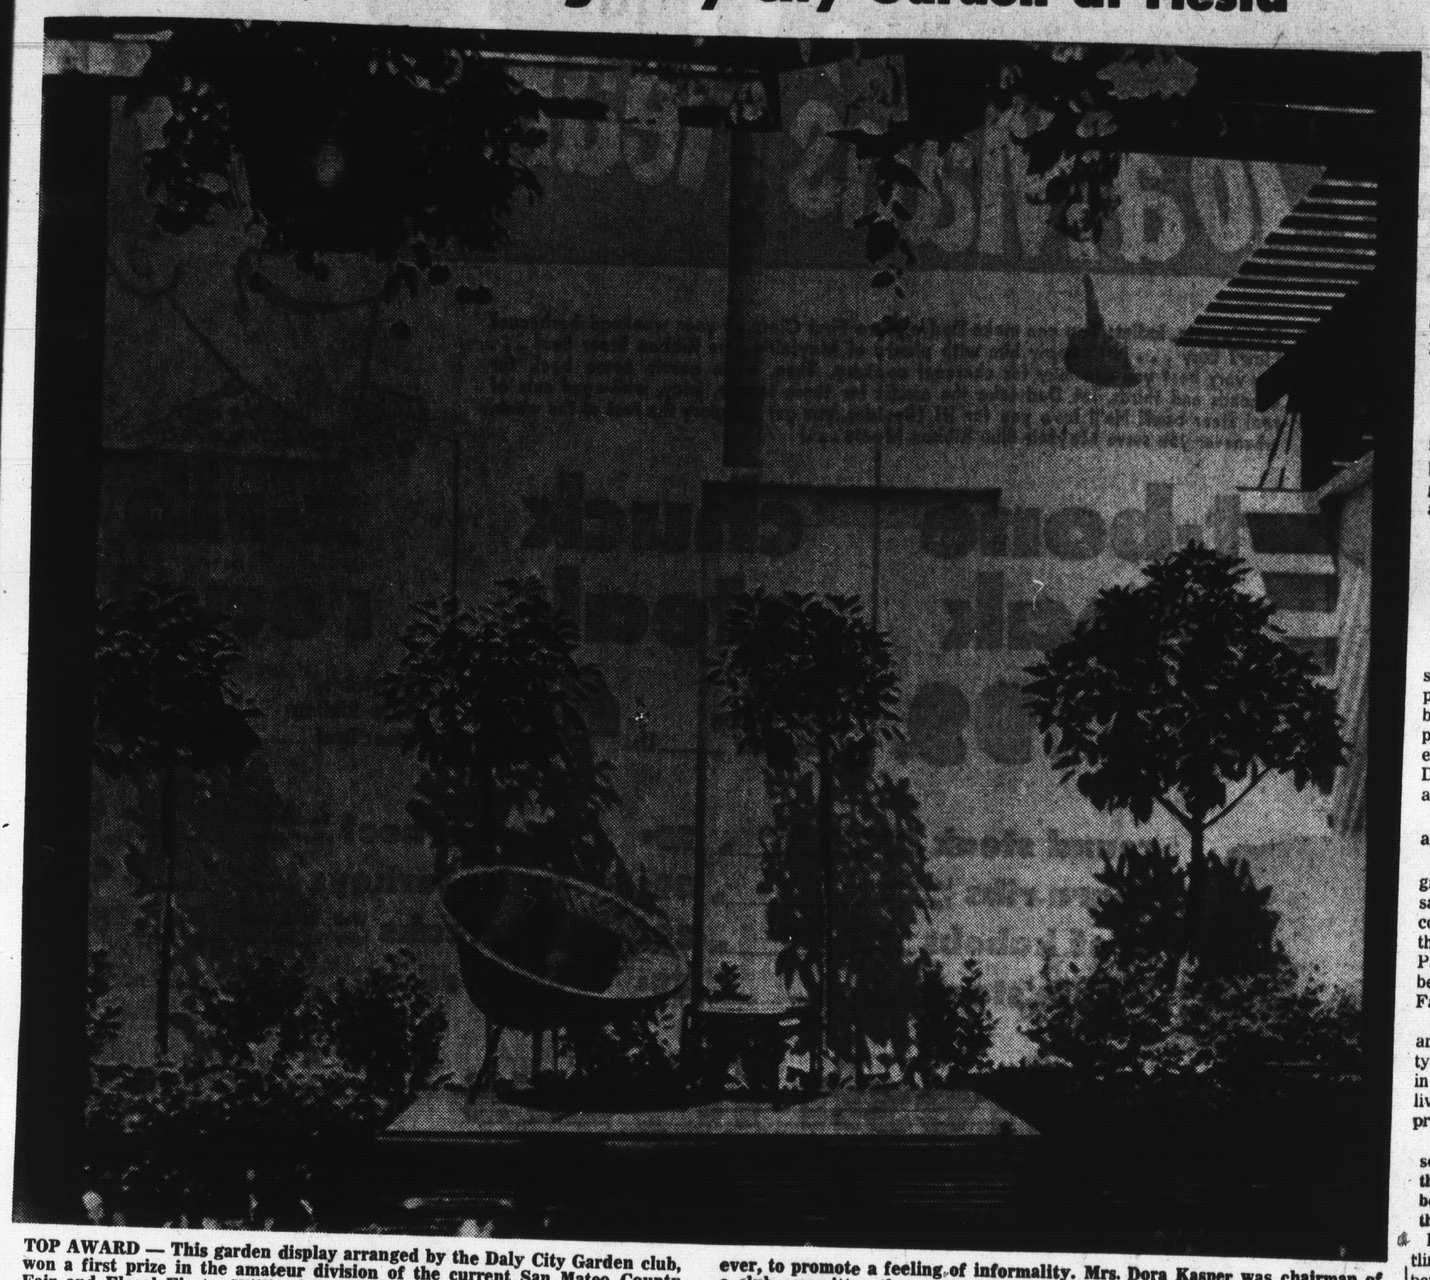
A Prize-Winning Daly City Garden at Fiesta



TOP AWARD — This garden display arranged by the Daly City Garden club, won a first prize in the amateur division of the current San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta. William G. Huston Jr., president of the club, who planned the display, said the garden is a formal arrangement designed, however, to promote a feeling of informality. Mrs. Dora Kasper was chairman of a club committee that worked on the display. Assistant chairman was Mrs. Huston. In last year's fiesta, the Daly City Garden club won a second place in the rock garden category.

NEW BLOOMS, PLANTS

Second Half of County Fair and Fiesta Under Way

The second half of the 29th annual San Mateo County Fair and Fiesta got under way in San Mateo today with fresh, new blooms and plants in the floral exhibits and a big-name entertainment headliner to take over the feature spot in the twice-daily stage show revues.

The fair continues through Saturday night.

Involved in an all-night refurbishing of the Twin Floral building were floral exhibitors, gardeners, landscape architects and Fiesta workmen.

Many flowers were replaced to assure that the show would maintain its "early-morning look" of freshness, according to fair manager William M. Wilson.

Taking over the stage show spotlight for the first time at 4 p.m. today will be Eddie Peabody, world-famous banjoist, supported by comedian Jimmy Jamerson, the Malione Dancers, Dwight Moore's Mongrel Revue and Jack Fisher's orchestra.

The show will be presented again tonight at 9.

A highlight of tomorrow's program will be a livestock auction sale beginning at 1 p.m. and continuing in the livestock area throughout most of the afternoon. Participating in this event will be 4-H club members and Future Farmers.

More than 800 animals, raised and groomed by San Mateo county youngsters, have been entered in this year's show. The young livestock growers are seeking premium prices for their animals.

A full range of events is scheduled for the balance of the Fiesta. Activities each day begin at 10 a.m. and continue through the 11 o'clock closing.

Included are boxing and wrestling matches, band concerts, barber shop singing, fashion shows, dance revues — and the popular Hound Dog show, sponsored by Peninsula Optimist clubs.

This event is scheduled for Saturday at 2 p.m.

Post time at the Fiesta race meet each day is 1 p.m. at neighboring Bay Meadows race track.

Today's program, in addition to the professional entertainment, will include a band concert at 5 p.m. by the Fort Mason Army band in the drill area. The Twelfth Naval district band will present a concert Saturday at 5 p.m.

Entertainment throughout each day is being provided by the Nob Hill trio.

Scheduled for 3 Saturday afternoon will be a drawing in the Fiesta bowl for the new car to be given away by QFI stores of San Mateo, Millbrae and South San Francisco.

Winner of the drawing will have a choice of a new Valiant sports convertible or a Valiant station wagon.

Both autos are on display at the fairgrounds. Tickets for the drawing may be obtained at QFI stores.

Teacher to Attend Meet

Richard Hart, director of stu- school, will attend Stanford university's Workshop for Community Leaders today through Friday in Palo Alto.

The workshop will discuss "Problems of Children and Youth in California'.' The subject was suggested by Roy Votay of the California Youth Authority

Tears and Dollars at The Auction

Tears versus monetary rewards for San Mateo county youngsters will provide the drama of the annual 4-H Junior Livestock auction and fat sale tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the county fair.

The sale, one of the most popular attractions of the fair, climaxes a year of feeding, caring for and training steers and lambs purchased by individual 4-H'ers and Future Farmers of America.

Many youngsters find parting from their animals a difficult matter. But the money received from the highest bidder usually goes a long way toward a college education or a hefty savings account.

Bidding is open to all those who wish to stock their freezers or to assist the 4-H activities.

NELL NORTON

Our Gal Wins

Post-Times columnist Nell Norton baked her way to three ribbons in the home economics baking division of the San Mateo county Fair last week.

Nell, who writes the "Sugar and Spice" column in The Post-Times, took a first place in the pie category with raisin pie. Her second place ribbon was for a banana cake and her third place ribbon was for a date-nut bread.

Fair officials said the competition in the home economics division had increased over last year.

Nell plans to enter her baking in the state fair in Sacramento later this month.

Prizes Are Awarded for Art at Fair

Many of San Mateo county's most accomplished artists have received top prizes in the 15th annual Fair and Fiesta Art exhibition, show chairman Robert Southworth has announced.

Over 400 works were submitted by Peninsula artists. From these, Judges Ruth Armer, Dr. Ernest K. Mundt and Dr. Ralph W. Putzker selected 127 to be hung in the Twin Floral building's gallery.

Grand prize went to Richard Sumner, who received the H. S. Crocker $100 award. Other first prize awards of $25 were won by Julia Edrington and Bud Roberts. All three winners are showing oil paintings.

Second award finalists are: Nancy Benedict, collage; M. A. Cross, watercolor; Robin Cormack, wood sculpture; Richard Sumner, steel sculpture; Marjorie Taylor, casein painting and collage.

White ribbons in the third prize category went to Mary Ella Emerson, oil painting; Bud Roberts, oil painting; Barbara Ogarrio; oil painting; Charles Moresi, ink drawing; Luther Spraker, woodcut; Leo Crawford, tapestry; Mauna Weir, oil painting.

County artists given honorable mention are: Sally Barber, oil painting; Marguerite Joseph, ink drawing; Ken Paige, woodcut; Richard T. Bergsund, oil painting.

"We are extremely pleased with the selection this year and feel that we have an especially fine show to offer the public," Southworth said.

Times Boys Win Rank Of All-Star

Two Times newspaperboys reached the high rank of "All-Star Carrier" recently and received a warmpup jacket to mark their feat. In order to attain this position, a newspaperboy must accumulate a total of ten "star months."

A star month is earned by giving excellent service to subscribers, obtaining new customers, and following sound business procedures.

The new All-Star carriers are: Jim Porvence of 905 Sunnybrae, San Mateo. Jim has had his Times route 1½ years and serves 66 customers. He is a junior at Aragon High school. Jim's district manager is Ed McGenity.

Tom Goddier of 120-22nd avenue, San Mateo. Tom is 13 years old and has had his route sixteen months. Tom's district manager is John Riordan.

When a newspaperboy accumulates six star months, he becomes a "Master Carrier" and earns a wool sweater.

The new Master Carriers are: Gary Bell, Don Alves, Dan Mowry, Bobby Chesire, of San Mateo, and Chris Bolt of Burlingame.

When a newspaperboy accumulates three star months, he becomes a "Senior Carrier" and earns a gaucho shirt.

The new Senior Carriers are: Paul Ely, Carl Hennagir of San Mateo and John Thomas of Daly City.

Billy Pflieger of Burlingame still continues to lead the entire carrier force of 565 boys with a total of 28 star months. Billy has never missed a star month since he began the route.

Greater Highways Is Official

The county Greater Highways committee, which has operated for several years on an informal basis, has been given official standing by the county board of supervisors.

The board established the committee as an official organization for one year and voted to specifically designate the membership. Heretofore, representation on the body has been loosely drawn.

It was the GHC that guided the recent county road bond program, which was defeated at the polls. the polls.

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee, is the one who suggested that it be reorganized and be given official sanction.

He said he hopes the committee can work out the development of a city-county road system, despite the defeat of the bonds.

Plans are now being made to use revenues from the gas tax increase approved by the legislature this year and recently signed by the governor on the city-county road system.

It was agreed by the board that the committee will have 29 members, to be appointed by the board chairman.

The group will include all five supervisors, a councilman from each of the county's 17 cities, the county's three state legislators, and one representative from each of these groups: Central Labor council, Building Trades council, Peninsula Manufacturers association, San Mateo county Development association, Town Hall association, Governmental Research, council.

Congressman J. Arthur Younger would be an honorary member.

S.M. College Bill Aids Land Gifts

A bill signed by Governor Brown has been opening the way for a state college in south San Mateo county.

The bill, authored by Sen. Richard Dolwig, authorized state college trustees to accept money gifts or to spend money for land as future state college sites. Specifically mentioned was a site in the Redwood City area.

This is believed to refer to a 200-acre parcel of Belmont tidelands offered by owner Richard Grant through the Millbrae engineering firm of Wilsey, Ham and Blair. Grant offered to donate 100 acres, or half of the parcel.

Grant's offer was made in April at a meeting of the state co-ordinating council for higher education in Los Angeles.

Assemblymen Carl Britschgi (R-Redwood City) and Leo Ryan (D-South San Francisco) and Sen. Richard Dolwig all attended the meeting to push for immediate action on a state college in San Mateo county.

The land is located in an accessible area on the east side of Bayshore freeway between the Ralston overpass in Belmont and the Holly avenue overpass in San Carlos.

Other sites included in the bill are Glendale area, Contra Costa county, Bakersfield area, and southern Ventura county.

Chapman Gets Award

Daly City Engineer William Chapman won the Best Speaker's award at the regular weekly meeting of the Daly City Toastmaster's club at the Westlake library Thursday.

Chapman's topic, "Religions of the World—with Milk Toast," concerned the trend of ministers' sermons. He said the sermons, as they are being delivered today, are driving people away from churches.

David Sumbardo, assistant to the city manager of South San Francisco, acted as toastmaster for the meeting. Jay Begun served as table topics chairman. Daly City policeman William Schumaker was voted the best table topic speech award.

The best speaker award was made by the previous winner, Donald Stepp.

In the business portion of the meeting, the club voted to support a dues raise asked by Toastmasters International.

Two Youngsters Hurt in Falls

Two North county youngsters suffered head injuries Thursday evening when they fell while playing at home.

Seth Welch III, 9, 938 Willits street, Daly City, fell out of a tree and hit some concrete steps.

He was admitted to Peninsula hospital with a possible fracture and concussion.

Stephen Steele, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Steele, 796 Cordoba court, Pacifica, fell out of a backyard swing and hit his head. He also was admitted with a possible concussion.

Spiny lobsters came from the lonely South Atlantic isle of Tristan da Cunha before a volcanic eruption there in 1961.

City Starts New Garages

Construction has begun on two pre-fabricated steel buildings in the Daly City Corporation yard, according to Engineer Edward Dominion.

The two buildings will house the city's maintenance vehicles.

Deterioration of the vehicles from Daly City's salty air and vandalism are the main reasons for construction of the buildings, Dominion said.

The buildings, being constructed by the CSB Construction company, will be completely closed in.

Motorcylist Is Arrested After Chase

Four motorcyclists led Daly City police on a four-minute chase early last Thursday that reached speeds up to 80 miles an hour before police caught one of the cyclists and arrested him on two charges.

The other three cyclists escaped.

Arrested was James D. O'Connell, 23, 483 E street, Colma. He was charged with reckless driving and driving with a suspended license. Police said he was wanted by Alameda county authorities on a traffic warrant.

The chase started about 3:20 a.m. at Wellington avenue and Brunswick street in Daly City.

Patrolmen James Bergstrom and Richard Phillips were following the cyclists when the motorcycles began to pick up speed. After the cyclists ran a stop sign, police gave chase.

The cyclists separated but the pursuing patrolmen caught O'Connell at Holyoke street and Silver avenue in San Francisco. The chase covered three miles.

S.F. Man Falls From Scooter

A San Francisco man suffered minor head injuries Thursday when he tumbled from his motor scooter while driving north on the Coast highway, 600 feet south of the Edgemar freeway overpass, in Daly City.

Treated at Peninsula hospital was Anthony Virgin.

THE BEAUTY and serenity of the great outdoors is never more apparent than here in the west and particularly in this golden state of ours.

This is readily evident to Californians for every weekend in great numbers they pour from their homes and apartments and stream toward the beaches, the valleys, the lakes and the mountains.

This exodus from our noisy urban centers can roughly be divided into two general groups: Those who think they like the outdoors but aren't quite sure and those who are totally convinced the air of the pine and the mountain brook is the only air to breathe.

The first group, because of their reservations, generally stick pretty close to The Machine, the family car, which is relied upon not only to provide transportation out to the country but through the countryside as well, mile afer mile, with hardly a stop to soak up what they had set out to find in the first place.

The second group, confirmed outdoorsmen as they are, use The Machine only as a means to a greater end—to reach some far off cabin, nestled in a forest of pines, or to drive within hiking distance of a desolate beach and camping ground, or to just reach a point in the great outdoors to camp and absorb the sounds and smells of nature for a day or so.

It is this second group we joined a weekend or so ago and we'd like to report that it's a great fraternity to belong to.

Why we ever let our membership lapse way back in the days of Boy Scouting is something we regret now. For in reaching a rapport with the good earth, the blue sky and the swift, cool waters, we found that we had been missing a considerable chunk of life.

Camping out in the open with the stars for a roof and a sleeping bag for a bed is an experience more of our urban-tied citizenry should try.

It's just possible they might return to the swift pace of today's work-a-day life with less of an inclination to lean on the horn in those freeway jams or to snap at the wife after one of THOSE days at the office or to level a withering look at the waiter who seems to be a bit slow with the soup de jour.

Somehow, after spending a couple of days away from the frenetic sounds of our civilization and listening to the soft rustle of wind through tree tops and the gurgle of frothy water tumbling over rocks, you can't help but resist (at least for a while) slipping back into the old rut.

EVERY CAMPING trip, thankfully, has an ample supply of those delightfully small, at times almost insignificant incidents that give the trip a special hue and a lasting niche in the storehouse of memories.

We were blessed—or depending upon one's disposition at the time—plagued with a number of these happenings on our trip and we'd like to ramble on about a couple of them.

We had picked out a man-made lake up in the gold country around Grass Valley, about 2500 feet up, for our venture into the great outdoors. It's called Bullard's Lake and it's what campers call an electric lake—that is, a lake formed by a dam, built by a power company to provide electricity.

The state has provided camping facilities on one side of this lake that are accessible only by negotiating a first-rate camping road that wends it way down from Highway 49 for several miles.

We say a first-rate road not because of its surface, which is practically non-existent in places, but because it approaches inaccessability along the way and thus, hopefully, discourages that first group of outdoor seekers who are wedded to The Machine.

NOW, IF you've ever arrived at a campsite at 1:30 in the morning, and if it's an unfamiliar one to most in your party, you can appreciate how easily general confusion can get into gear.

We broke out a raft of flashlights and a Coleman lantern and began looking for a place to spread out the sleeping bags and grab some slumber in the few remaining hours before daybreak.

As we stumbled along with our menagerie of lights, it must have appeared to other campers in the area who had bedded down much earlier that the circus had arrived.

After about a half hour or so, we picked out what seemed like an excellent headquarters for the weekend. A picnic table and fireplace were close at hand, the ground was fairly level for bedding and a fresh water brook was not far off.

As we prepared to commune with Morpheus, we raised what seemed like a convention of mosquitoes from the grass around us and if insects could think, they too would have harbored thoughts about Barnum and Bailey.

Ultimately, the convention was dispersed and we slipped into sleeping bags to gaze at the vastness of the universe above and to watch the shooting stars offer their 2 a.m.—and last—show.

SINCE EVERY camping expedition seems to have at least one member who cannot sleep one second beyond the first glimmer of the new day, we weren't surprised to be awakened by our representative of the up-and-at-'em set rooting about, getting a fire going and breakfast on the way.

As we rubbed the sleep and the dew out of our eyes, we realized that our supposedly ideal camping ground was not at all what it had appeared to be by starlight.

True, we were hard by a raft of camping conveniences. But we also were smack in the middle of the whole shebang, and worse, in the center of a dusty field.

With other campers situated under shade trees in a sort of circle around us, we had inadvertently occupied stage center for what we had hoped would be a trip to get away from it all—and the "all" included other campers.

However, the good angel again took us in tow. We launched a boat we had car-topped and set out to find an area far removed from our center stage.

Rounding a bend in the Yuba River, which feeds Bullard Lake, we discovered our camping Shangri-la—a stretch of isolated beach, fronting on a wide part of the river that formed a mirror-like lake, which in turn was flanked by pine-covered banks that rose steeply into the blue.

It was here that we settled for the weekend to enjoy the great outdoors. And it was here, finally, that we realized what we had been missing.

PLANNING SESSION — Top officials of the League of California Cities got together last week in the Daly City Council chambers to plan a program for the 65th annual Conference of the League of California Cities, which is scheduled to be held in San Francisco October 20-23. Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci is second vice-president of the state-wide organization. From left to right are Los Angeles Councilman Harold A. Henry, first vice president; Verducci; San Rafael Mayor John McInnis, president, and San Leandro Mayor Jack D. Maltester, director. Assisting in the planning at the meeting were Donald Bennanghoven and Howard Gardner, members of the league staff. (Post-Times photo)

NON-SECTARIAN EFFORT

Hospital Fund Drive Launched

A blue-ribbon gathering of Daly City civic leaders gathered last night to launch a drive for funds to help complete Mary's Help hospital, now under construction at Junipero Serra boulevard and Eastmoor avenue in Daly City. The leaders met in the auditorium of Our Lady of Mercy Church in Westlake. The Reverend Richard M. Power, pastor of the church, served as host.

Three divisions of the drive have been formed under co-chairmen Alfred Figone, labor council executive; John Drye, general sales manager of Kilpatrick Bakeries and Paul Hupf, attorney for Daly City.

Frank Curry, former president of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, is general chairman of the drive in Daly City.

In keeping with the non-sectarian nature of the hospital, representatives of all religious denominations are taking part in the campaign for funds.

Leaders of the drive include Dr. Roy Milam, former pastor of Westlake Baptist church and now associate pastor of the First Baptist church in San Francisco and his successor at Westlake, the Reverend H. Hansel Stembridge.

Curry told the gathering last night that "we want to launch our campaign here first and set a mark for our sister communities of Pacifica and South San Francisco to shoot at."

He added that the hospital will serve all of North San Mateo county. Goal for the area-wide campaign is $1,500,000.

Mary's Help Hospital Week Is Proclaimed

Mayor Joseph Verducci has proclaimed this week as Mary's Hospital Week in Daly City, taking note of the start of the hospital's fund drive in the city.

His proclamation urged that all citizens of good will devote themselves to the campaign of the new Mary's Help hospital."

Verducci said that the new facility "will be a community asset of inestimable value to Daly City.

He added that the hospital will provide "the same high standards of medical care and efficiency" that the present Mary's Help hospital in San Francisco has for more than 50 years.

Coast Storm Drain Report To be Heard

Pacifica's storm drainage citizens' committee report, scheduled to be presented to the city council next Wednesday, will call for restrictions on developers to prevent flooding and erosion problems in the future.

It also will ask for passage of a nearly $2-million bond issue to finance needed corrective work along the city's creeks.

The committee members will met tonight and hope to complete the final draft of their report.

Chairman Dan Martin said the committee hopes to see immediate action by the city council on the drainage problem.

Martin added that restrictions would prevent developers from "coming in, making their money and then leaving, leting the city handle the problem."

He pointed out that new building in Pacifica is taking place mainly in the hilly upstream areas, causing increased runoff and threatening the older downstream residential areas.

This problem is especially acute in Linda Mar and Rockaway, he explained.

Earlier, Martin said that the committee had decided to ask for a bond issue rather than try to get work done along the creek banks by setting up assessment districts.

CSM Lowers Assessment

A final tax rate for 1963-1964 of .4353, .0127 lower than the 1962-1963 rate and lower also than previous estimates, has been set by the board of trustees of the San Mateo Junior college district, which last week adopted the final budget for the coming college year.

In recommending acceptance of the budget, Superintendent Julio L. Bortolazzo reviewed the breakdown of the tax rate, of which 4½ cents is the total cost per $100 valuation for interest and redemption of bonds used for College Heights construction.

The superintendent emphasized that the new campus will be completed by using only the bond funds, reserves, and current operational moneys, "without one dollar of the Delaware sale be applied to complete purchase money.

The Delaware funds will be applied to complete purchase of the south county campus, to purchase a coastside site, and for some of the future campus construction," Dr. Bortolazzo stated.

Director of Building Construction George Hutchinson in a "signs of progress report on College Heights, briefly reviewed the most recent activities on the construction.

Pacifican's Bridge Jump Thwarted by Passers-by

A Pacifica man was prevented from leaping from the railing of Golden Gate bridge by passers-by last Wednesday afternoon while his wife and three children looked on helplessly.

Earl Wayne Warner, 35, forced his wife to stop their car during the 5:20 commuter traffic, police said, and dashed for the railing.

Warner was grabbed by a pedestrian, Lou E. Miller, of Richmond, as he ran by. Three other men jumped from their cars and fought Warner back to the sidewalk.

Mrs. Warner said her husband had lost his job as an auto mechanic in San Francisco and she had driven him into the city to recover his tools.

He suggested they drive across the bridge, the distraught wife said, and gave no hint of his suicide plans until he slammed on the car's brakes.

A highway patrolman handcuffed the struggling Warner. He was taken to the psychiatric ward of San Francisco General hospital.

Warner's three children — Debbie, 9, Larry, 7, and Sandra, 3—and Donna Kelly, an 11-year-old daughter of a neighbor, watched in horror as he lunged for the bridge's edge.

SM Population Is 508,600

San Mateo county's population stood at 508,600 as of July 1 according to estimates by the state finance department.

This presents an increase of 4.1 per cent since July 1, 1962, or a population boost of about 20,000.

The estimates place California's population at 17,675,000, an increase of about 631,000 over last year. This represents a population increase rate of 3.7 per cent from a year ago and 12.5 per cent from the last federal census in 1960.

Orange county showed the greatest increase—10.3 per cent or about 90,900 people.

Increase for other Bay Area counties show: Alameda, 2.8; Contra Costa, 4.6; Marin, 5.7; San Francisco, .1; and Santa Clara, 6.9.

Fifty square miles in West Texas, including Guadalupe Peak and El Capital Peak, has been proposed as a national park by Texas Congressman Joe Pool.

MORE ALLIED SHIPS

WASHINGTON — Allied ships sailing to Cuba outnumber Russian freighters in Cuban trade according to Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla.

Rogers told the House Tuesday that 44 Allied ships went to Cuba in May compared to 38 Russian vessels. Tentative June figures show 39 Allied ships and 31 Russian, and incomplete July reports show 16 free world vessels and 14 Soviet freighters, he said.

D.C. Officer Hurt by Car

A Daly City policeman was injured Sunday night when a stopped auto he was writing a traffic citation for rolled backwards and knocked him to the street.

The officer, John K. Kolbmann, 28, of 21 Park Plaza drive, Daly City, was treated at Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco for an injury to the left knee. He will be off duty for about a week, police reported.

The driver of the auto was identified as John L. Rice, 46, of Richmond. The accident occurred at South Mayfair avenue and Fairway drive.

Peach Crisp Is Right for Two

Easy delicious and just right "Peach Crisp" is the ideal dessert for working people who like hurry-up meals It goes together quickly and bakes while the dinner entree is heating The peaches are juicy golden canned clings and thet opping a buttery brown sugar mixture

Peach Crisp

1can 1 lb) cling peach slices
¼cup brown sugar packed)
2tablespoons flour
Dash cinnamon
1½tablespoons butter or margarine
Whipped or plain cream

Drain peaches thoroughly and arrange in two individual baking dishes or 7-inch pie pan saving 4 slices for garnish Blend sugar flour cinnamon and butter until crumbly and sprinkle over peaches Bake in 375-degree moderately hot) oven until crisp and lightly browned Serve warmw ith cream and garnish of peach slices

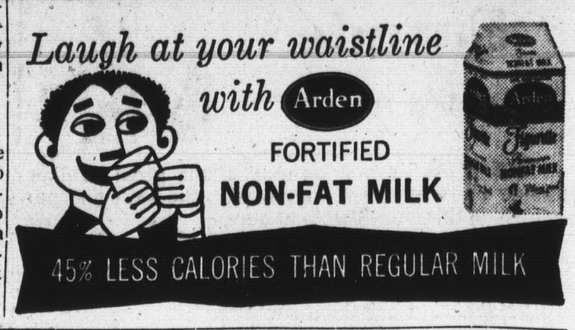
Makes two servings

Enjoy this quick-and-easy herbed cheese bread. Brush slices of French bread or halved crisp rolls lightly with butter. Sprinkle with dried dill, rosemary or oregano. Top generously with any new cheese flavor, then heat under broiler or in a hot oven until bread is crusty and cheese melted.

Cheese vegetables the easy way. Top hot mashed potatoes with any new convenience cheese flavor. Treat asparagus, broccoli, carrots, onions and lima beans to the flavor magic of any of the new "instant" cheeses. To make quick-creamed vegetables: add ⅛ cup heavy cream to every 2 cups cooked vegetables, add cheese and heat.

Pools of melting cheese give rewarding flavor and color to Spanish rice and baked bean casseroles. Make depressions in top of rice or beans with back of a spoon. Fill with any new convenience cheese flavor the last 5 minutes of baking or as casserole comes from the oven.

Cracked bay leaves help bring out the flavor of roast lamb. Team them with parsley, Beau Monde, oregano, garlic powder and lemon peel but use the mixture sparingly in a mariande. Better to go too lightly than too heavily on seasonings.



Surprise Meatballs For Party

Delight your guests with these surprising meatball hors d'oeuvres. They appear to be just tiny meatballs simmered in a little liquid, but one bite will disclose an exciting difference. The ground meat, combined with zesty deviled ham, is molded around small pieces of blue cheese, then simmered in the surprise liquid—a flavorful California Sherry.

Small glasses of dry Sherry served along with these hors d'oeuvres are an excellent prelude to dinner. For a large party the Sherry is available in economical half or full gallons.

SURPRISE MEATBALLS
(Makes about 80)

1 pound ground beef
1 (4½-oz.) can deviled ham
1 egg
½ cup dry bread crumbs
¼ pound blue cheese, coarsely crumbled
2 tablespoons olive oil or other shortening
1-3 cup California Sherry

Mix ground beef, deviled ham, egg and broad crumbs thoroughly. Form into small balls about the size of a walnut. Push a small piece of cheese into the center of each ball, being careful to cover it completely with the meat mivture. Brown balls lightly in shortening over moderate heat; add Sherry and simmer for five minutes more, stirring gently. Serve hot on cocktail picks for an hors d'oeuvre.

Here's New Idea for Popcorn

Popcorn kabobs are a new, unique eatable favor for a children's party. Made with two, up-to-date foods—wrapped caramels and popcorn, ready for popping in its own foil fry pan, the kabobs can be ready in a jiffy. While the corn pops, the caramels melt. Then, just shape the caramel coated corn into balls. Arrange three balls on each stick and gum drop tip the ends.

To personalize the kabobs for each guest, put place cars on toothpicks and stick them into the gum drops. Easy to eat, easy to hold, these popcorn kabobs will find ready favor with the younger set.

Popcorn Kabobs

1 lb. wrapped caramels
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon pure vanilla
1 package ready-to-pop corn, foil wrapped gum drops

Melt caramels and water over hot water. Stir in vanilla. Meanwhile, pop the corn in its own foil container. Put popped corn into large oblong baking dish or pan. Pour over melted caramels. Shape into small balls. Put three on a stick. Top ends with gum drops.

Makes about a dozen kabobs.

Treat the family to a delicious cheese omelet. Simply cover half the cooked omelet generously with any new cheese flavor before folding over. Add extra cheese on top and sprinkle with finely chopped chives.

PLAY IT COOL, MOM

Home economists say a refrigerator should be eleven cubic feet for a family of three, with an extra foot for each additional member of household. Porcelain-on-steel inside liners are recommended for durability. Their hard coating of glass permanently fused to steel makes them resistant to chips and cracks. Easy to clean, porcelain-on-steel won't stain, retain food odors or scratch, whether or not a cleaning compound is used.

Peach Party Spice Torte

Here's the perfect dessert for any party — cake and canned cling peaches and whipped cream all dolled up in beautiful "Peach Party Spice Torte."

Top two layers of spice cake (prepared with a mix) with a fluffy meringue before baking. When cool, put together with colorful canned cling peach slices and whipped cream. Good!

NEED EXTRA SHEET?

Ned an extra cookie sheet when you are baking a big batch of cookies? Turn a jelly-roll pan upside down and use the bottom for baking the cookies.

PEACH PARTY SPICE TORTE

3 egg whites
Few grains salt
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 package spice cake mix
¾ cup whipping cream
1 can (1 lb.) cling peach slices

Beat egg whites with salt and cream of tartar until foamy. Gradually beat in sugar to form a stiff meringue. Fold in lemon rind. Prepare cake batter according to package directions. Grease and line 2 (8-inch; layer cake pans with waxed paper. Spoon in batter. Spread meringue carefully over batter. Bake in 325-degree (moderately slow) oven 40 to 45 minutes. Cool in pans 5 to 10 minutes, then loosen edges and carefully remove to wire racks. When thoroughly cold, remove waxed paper. Just before serving, whip cream and drain peaches thoroughly. Spread cream and arrange peaches on on cake layer, top with other layer and spread with remaining cream, arranging remaining peaches in spiral fashion. If desired, garnish with maraschino cherries.

Makes 10 to 12 servings.

TOPPING FOR CASSEROLES

Give your favorite casserole a decided flavor lift with this topping. Combine half of (1⅜ oz.) envelope onion soup mix (equals 3 tablespoons; with ½ cup soft bread crumbs. Toss with 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Sprinkle over casserole before baking.

Here Are Some Simple Dinners

There are many days in the life of a busy homemaker when household or civic duties require unusual time and effort and there is little left when it comes to dinner.

This is one of the moments to remember the joys of casserole cooking, when a single dish can be attractive and appetizing and needs no other accompaniments than bread, a salad, and a beverage to round out the meal. And, when the casserole can be quickly prepared, combining shelf foods in a dish with adequate nutrition in a pleasing blend of colors, flavors, and textures, it's something little short of a miracle.

Another advantage to casserole cooking is that the dish may be prepared early in the day or even the day ahead, only to improve as the flavors mix and mellow, while you go ahead with other taks. There's no need to return to the kitchen until just a short time before the dinner bell.

Here is a recipe which can be prepared in twelve minutes —the time it takes to cook a cup of elbow macaroni. The macaroni is mixed with a can of mushroom soup and a can of wonderfully nutritious salmon, packed with all the essential proteins, and many of the minerals and vitamins necessary to robust health and conducive to a wonderful sense of well-being, so important if we are to get the most out of every day.

The salmon mixture is sprinkled generously with shredded cheese and bread crumbs, which bake to a crisp golden topping. Just 30 minutes in a moderate oven brings the casserole bubbling hot to the table. This is a dish that you will want to include as your busy-day special, not only through the Lenten weeks, but during every week of the entire year.

SIMPLE SALMON CASSEROLE

1 cup elbow macaroni
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
2-3 cup evaporated milk
1 4-ounce can pimimentos, drained and chopped
1 1-pound can salmon
1 cup grated American cheese
2 slices bread, crumbed

Turn on oven and set at moderate (350 degrees F.).

Cook macaroni in 6 cups boiling salted water for 12 minutes. Drain, but do not rinse. While the macaroni is cooking, combine the mushroom soup, evaporated milk, and pimiento. Add liquid from the can of salmon, the salmon, flaked in large chunks, and half the grated cheese. Mix well and stir in the cooked macaroni. Turn mixture into an oiled 6-cup baking dish. Combine remaining cheese and bread crumbs and sprinkle over salmon-macaroni mixture. Bake in the preheated oven for 30 minutes. Serve hot with dark bread and a tossed salad. Serves 4.

Another delicious casserole combines salmon with noodles, cottage cheese and sour cream. It too, is quick and easy to make and will give you the satisfaction of knowing that today you have fed your family wisely and well.

SALMON NOODLE CASSEROLE

1 8-ounce or ½ 1-pound package egg noodles
1 ½ cups cottage cheese
2 cups sour cream
2 tablespoons chopped chives or green onions
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 1-pound can salmon
1 cup fresh bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup grated Parmesan or other hard cheese

Turn on oven and set at moderate (350 degrees F).

Cook noodles according to directions on package for 8 minutes. Drain, but do not rinse. Mix with cottage cheese, sour cream, chives or scallions, salt, pepper, and the liquid from the can of salmon. Flake and add the salmon. Mix well. Turn mixture into a buttered 6-cup baking dish. Brown the bread crumbs in the 2 tablespoons butter and sprinkle on top. Bake in the preheated oven for 30 minutes. Remove from oven and sprinkle with cheese. Return to oven for 8 minutes, or until cheese is melted. Serves 4.

Fruit Freeze For Lunch

Here's new of an exciting multi-pourpose recipe for summer Friut Freeze, Rose can be salad or dessert, served for lunch, dinner or a light supper. Pink and pretty California Rose wine adds delicate color along with fruity flavor to this frozen dish.

The wine itself is also a wonderfully all-purpose beverage. It flatters equally meat, fish and poultry. Serve Rose well chilled for the most enjoyment.

FRUIT FREEZE, ROSE
(Makes 6-9 servings)

1 (1 lb. 4½-oz) can crushed pineapple.
1½ cups minature marshmallows
1-2 cup California Rose
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped maraschino cherries
2 tablespoons syrup from cherries
½ cup whipping cream
1 sliced banana
Lettuce cups

Combine pineapple and marshmallows and let stand an hour or longer, until marshmallows are soft and partly melted. Stir in wine, lemon juice, salt, cherries and cherry syrup. Whip cream until stiff. Fold cream and banana into first mixture. Turn into freezing tray and place in freezing compartmmnt until barely firm. Cut into squares or rectangles and serve in lettuce cups.

Victorian Chefs Used Tea in Unusual Ways

VICTORIAN CHEFS used tea in two surprising and interesting ways — to flavor ice cream and to give piquancy to the sugar syrup of poached fruit

A friend of ours spurred on by this example recently made an interesting experiment she added instant tea to a pound-cake mix We followed suit. Theta plus grated lemon rind makes a real cake-mix change that you might like to try

Tea punches have long been in vogue The earliest recipes for these punches includeds pirits and the beverage was served hot An 1862 rule calls for green tea infused with boiling water served flaming over brandy rum lump sugar and the juice of a lemon

But since the 1900s when iced tea probably first arrived tea punches have been popular in chilled form Here's a modern non - alcoholic combination that features tea plus cranberry juice It's easily made and pleasant to serve at a summer party

PINK TEA PUNCH

3 cups boiling water
12 teabags or 4 tablespoons loose tea
2 to 2½ cups sugar
2 cups fresh lemon juice
2 cups cranberry juice cocktail
2 quarts chilled club soda
Ice cubes
Whole cloves
Lemon slices

Pour boiling water over tea and cool Add sugar lemon juice cranberry juice cocktail stir to dissolve sugar Just before serving stir in club soda Pour over ice cubes in punch bowl or pitcher Insert cloves in lemon slices and float on punch Makes 1 gallon or 32 one-half cup servings

Pound Cake Interesting This Way

Pound cake mix has a tawny tinge and interesting flavor when it's made up this way.

TEA CAKE

1 package (1 pound, 1 ounce) pound cake mix
1 tablespoon instant tea
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Make up and bake the cake mix according to package directions, adding the instant tea and lemon rind to the liquid called for.

Snap Bean Luncheon Plate

1¼ pounds snap beans
Boiling water
6 slices toast
Mustard-Cheese Sauce
12 slices crisp bacon

Wash and remove tips from snap beans. Place in a saucepan with one inch of boiling water and salt. Bring to a boil and cook, uncovered, for 5 minutes. Cover and boil 10 to 15 minutes or until beans are crisp - tender. Drain beans and arrange on toast. Serve with Mustard Cheese Sauce and bacon. Makes 6 servings.

MUSTARD CHEESE SAUCE

¼ cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
3 egg yolks, beaten lightly
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
¾ cup grated sharp American cheese
½ teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Salt to taste

In a saucepan over low heat, melt the butter; stir in flour; add milk. Cook and stir constantly until slightly thickened. Combine egg yolks and lemon juice and mix with the sauce. Stir over low heat for about a minute. Off heat, stir in cheese, mustard, pepper and salt until cheese melts. Makes about 1½ cups.

Chili pequins will give an authentic taste to south-of-the-border favroites such as enchiladas, tacos and tostados.

A Delicious Nectarine Pancake Sauce

Undoubtedly you serve nectarines to eat out of hand, but there are also other delicious ways to treat this fruit.

Nectarines make refreshing salads. Team them with cottage cheese or cream cheese and salad greens. Or add them to other summer fruits.

Poach whole or halved nectarines in a vanilla-flavored sugar syrup for a French-style compote. Or concoct Nectarine Melba — scoops of vanilla ice cream topped with halved poached nectarines and raspberry sauce.

Brush nectarine halves with melted butter and sprinkle their cavities with sugar; broil until heated through and serve with bacon and scrambled eggs for breakfast. Or let these broiled nectarines accompany baked ham or pork chops for dinner.

Fold sliced or diced nectarines into gelatin desserts — plain, Spanish, Bavarian or snow - pudding variety.

And consider trying this recipe for Tender Pancakes with Nectarine Sauce .It was liked so much at our house that four of us ate up what is designed for six! We served this dish for a summer evening company snack, but it's also perfect brunch fare.

TENDER PANCAKES WITH NECTARINE SAUCE

6 nectarines
¾ cup sugar
½ cup and 1 tablespoon water
Pinch of salt
½ lemon, thinly sliced
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons butter
Tender Pancakes

Slice nectarines. In a saucepan over low heat, stir together the sugar, ½ cup water and salt until sugar dissolves; bring to a boil. Add lemon; simmer 8 to 1 0minutes. Mix cornstarch and 1 tablespoon water; stir into hot mixture. Cook, stirring gently, until slightly thickened and clear. Remove from heat. Stir in butter and nectarines. Reheat gently just before pancakes are finished. Spoon some of sauce over each pancake; fold in half. Accompany pancakes with remaining sauce.

TENDER PANCAKES

1 cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
2 eggs
½ cup milk
½ cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons butter, melted and cooled
¼ cup finely chopped blanched almonds
Butter for frying

Sift together the flour, salt and sugar. Beat eggs with milk and cream just to combine; gradually stir into flour mixture keeping smooth. Stir in butter and almond Generously brush a 6-inch skillet with butter and heat; hold skillet off heat and pour in 2 tablespoons batter; swirl off heat so mixture covers pan. Brown rapidly on both sides; turn out. Generously brushing skillet each time, continue making pancakes; keep them warm until batch is finished. Makes about 18 pancakes.

Refreshing, Tangy for A Hot Day

Refreshing tangy dessert for a hot summer day.

Fried Chicken Hominy Grits
Green Peas with Butter Sauce and Mushrooms
Sliced Tomatoes Bread Tray
Frozen Lemon cream Beverage

FROZEN LEMON CREAM

1 cup milk
1 cup cream
1 cup sugar
Grated rind and juice of 2 lemons
2 to 4 teaspoons ginger

In a mixing bowl, stir together the milk, cream and sugar until sugar is entirely dissolved; stir in ginger. Set the bowl in the freezer or pour the mixture into a refrigerator tray and freeze it until it is mushy. Add grated lemon rind and juice; beat well with a rotary beater; freeze again for 2 hours. Beat again thoroughly and return the cream to the freezer to stiffen and store. Makes 3 pints. To store, Frozen Lemon Cream may be packed in a plastic container and covered tightly.

Note: For a slight subtle taste of ginger, use the smaller amount; for more distinctive ginger taste, increase the amount.

When using Fines Herbes, always crush them in your hand before adding them to food. This hastens the flavor release.

Coffee Ice Cream Soda

In these days of home freezers and refrigerator freezing compartments, it's easy to keep ice cream and other ingredients on hand for all the makings of a perfect summer drink. Try this recipe for Coffee Ice Cream Soda . . . it takes just a few seconds to make, with flavorful instant decaffeinated coffee. You'll enjoy having this convenient instant coffee on hand to make other delicious coolers — coffee milk shakes, iced coffee — or a steaming cup of robust hot coffee.

COFFEE ICE CREAM SODA

2 teaspoons instant decaffeinated coffee
4 teaspoons sugar
2 tablespoons milk
1 bottle (7 ounces) club soda
Coffee ice cream

Dissolve instant coffee and sugar in milk in a tall glass, stirring vigorously. Stir in part of the soda. Allow foam to settle; then add 2 small (#24) scoops of ice cream. Gradually stir in remaining soda. Or, allow foam to settle, stir in remaining soda, and top with 1 large scoop ice cream. Makes 1 serving.

Try Double Prune Cream

Here's a tasty Sunday dinner:
Roast Lamb Cracked Wheat
Spinach Greek Salad
Crusty Rolls
Double Prune Cream Beverage

DOUBLE PRUNE CREAM

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1-3 cup sugar
½ cup cold water
1 jar (8 ounces) junior baby-food prunes
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup heavy cream
6 cooked prunes
Slivered or whole toasted blanched almonds

In a 1-quart saucepan stir together the gelatin and sugar; add cold water. Stir constantly over low heat until gelatin-sugar dissolves; run a spatula around sides of pan toward end of heating to stir down any particles and dissolve. Remove from heat. Stir in chopped prunes and lemon juice; chill until mixture is thickened but not set. In a medium bowl, whip cream until stiff; gradually fold in prune mixture. Turn into 6 (each holding about ½ cup) individual white ramekins or other serving dishes or sherbet glasses. Pit prunes; stuff with almonds; garnish desserts with stuffed prunes; chill. Makes 6 servings. For a sweet addition, serve with toasted pound cake.

Peanut Butter-Banana Spread

Blend ¾ cup cream or chunk style peanut butter with 1-3 cup light corn syrup, ¼ cup warm water, and ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon. Mash 1 large banana and mix in 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Blend into creamed mixture. Makes about 1½ cups.

To make a party-pretty salad, fill centers of two pear halves with any new convenience cheese flavor. Place together and stand upright to make whole pear. Ruffle new "instant" cheese flavor along edges where pears are joined; top with a tiny sprig of mint or parsley and set in crisp greens.

Flavors Spark Tomato Juice

You can retain the sun-ripened goodness of this year's tomato crop if you will devote a few hours to making and canning fresh tomato juice. It will taste mighty good come winter.

High in vitamins, low in calories, tomato juice can cost you as little as 6 to 12 cents a quart. The cost depends upon the source of the tomatoes.

Tomato juice is an excellent substitute for sweet, bottled drinks for children. Let them play at mixing, making their own choice of seasoning—and they'll learn to love it. Tomato juice is a boon to weight watchers, too, for a cupful adds up to only 50 calories.

Prepare your juice without seasoning, and stow it away. When you plan to use it, take down a jar or two several hours in advance of serving time. That's the time to add the seasoning, or combination of seasonings, your favorite taste tantilizers—dill, garlic, herbs or sauces. Then put into the refrigerator to chill while the seasonings mellow. Be adventurous—try curry, chili powder, mint or sage. It's fun to experiment, and variety, too, adds spice.

Tomato juice is easy to make at home. One bushel (53 lbs.) of sound tomatoes will make 12 to 16 quarts of juice.

The principles are simple—wash, rinse, drain, core and quarter red-ripe tomatoes. Simmer in covered kettle until soft, then put through food mill or sieve to remove seeds and skins. Reheat juice almost to boiling and pour to within one quarter inch of the top of fruit jars. You may, if you like, add one teaspoon of salt to each quart. Put dome lids on jars, screw bands tight, and process in boiling water bath canner. Pints require 10 minutes, quarts 15 minutes.

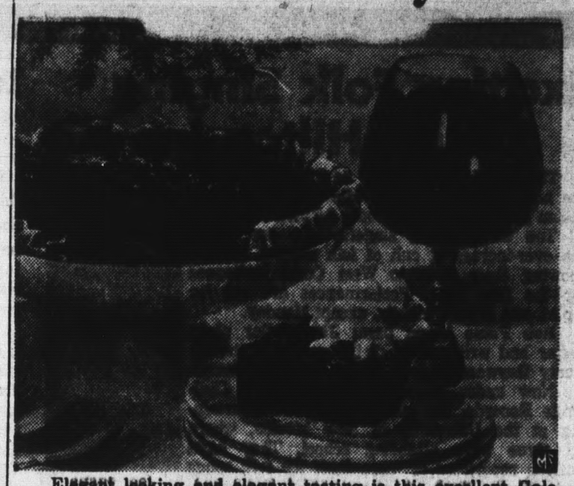
Try This Gala Blueberry Pie



Elegant looking and elegant tasting is this excellent Gala Blueberry Pie. It is a perfect ending for any celebration . . . formal or otherwise. Make it early — then at serving time, bring it to the table uncut. If you serve it with scoops of ice cream, prepare these ahead and freeze them . . . put them in a glass bowl and put this bowl into another larger bowl filled with ice cubes. Serve at table.

For the less formal dinner, try garlic-broiled chicken, baked potatoes with melted cheese . . . and a bright salad of sliced pickled beets, onion slices, ripe olives, garnished with sieved egg yolks, and served with a dressing. Serve plenty of iced, or hot, coffee with the pie.

Gala Blueberry Pie

1 package (3 oz.) black raspberry or black cherry flavor gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cold water
½ teaspoon almond flavoring
1 pint fresh cultivated blueberries
1 baked 9-inch pie shell
Vanilla ice cream or Sweetened whipped cream

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water and almond extract. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in blueberries. Spoon into pie shell. Chill until firm. Serve with a scoop of vanilla ice cream, or whipped cream.

Casserole Is Social Security

A good casserole recipe means social security. With it, you can serve drop-in guests with assurance, win compliments at a pot-luck supper, or please the family time after time with an inexpensive dish that seems very special. All this is possible, because of one ingredient—wine—in an otherwise commonplace mixture.

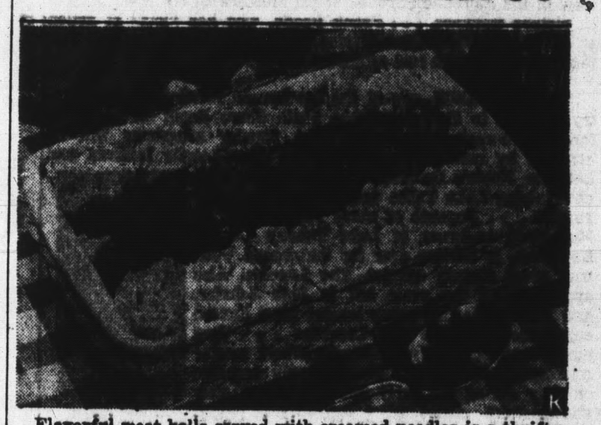
There isn't anything unusual about combining ground beef, onion, tomatoes and rice, until you put in the imaginative seasonings like oregano and one-half cup of red dinner wine. Immediately, you're a gourmet cook to your friends. You'll establish an even better reputation by pouring glasses of the same red wine as the accompanying beverage. A Burgundy or Claret, produced in California, adds just the right festive note.

BEEF AND RICE CASSEROLE BURGUNDY
(Serves 5 or 6)

1 pound ground beef
1 small onion, minced
1 green pepper, minced
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 tablespoons flour
1½ cups canned tomatoes (juice and pulp)
½ cup California Burgundy, Claret or other red dinner wine
1 teaspoon oregano
Salt and pepper
2 cups cooked rice
2 tablespoons fine, dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
Paprika

Saute beef, onion and green pepper until meat is broken into small bits. Blend in flour; add tomatoes and wine; cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Add oregano, salt and pepper. Combine beef mixture and rice; turn into a greased casserole. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and cheese; dust with paprika. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour.

Money-Saving Main Course



Flavorful meat balls served with creamed noodles is a thrifty and taste-tempting main dish that's truly easy on the cook. Blended with evaporated milk, the ground beef mixture is easy to shape and the meat balls retain a juicy moistness for fork-tender eating. While the meat balls are baking, the noodles can be prepared. Noodles cooked in evaporated milk and water until thickened is a new idea, but the resulting creamy fluffiness is so good that once tried this is sure to become a favorite cookery method.

BEEF BALLS WITH CREAMED NOODLES

1 pound ground beef
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 egg
1 tall can evaporated milk (1⅓ cups)

Place all ingredients except evaporated milk in a medium size mixing bowl. Measure ½ cup evaporated milk and add. (Reserve remaining evaporated milk for cooking noodles.) Mix ingredients thoroughly with a fork. Shape into 24 meat balls (about 1 tablespoon meat mixture for each). Place in a baking dish and bake in preheated moderate oven (350° F.) 20 minutes. Meanwhile, prepare creamed noodles. For serving, meat balls may be mixed with creamed noodles, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Creamed Noodles: In a kettle, bring 4 cups water and remaining evaporated milk (about 1⅓ cups) to a boil slowly over low heat. Add 2 teaspoons salt, then stir in uncooked medium noodles (8 oz. package), and continue cooking, stirring occasionally, until noodles are tender and thickened, about 10 minutes.

BRIGHT LIGHTS

Exciting Folk Singing Trio—Hilton Inn Hit

The Road Runners, a new and exciting folk singing trio, are now appearing in the Mark Twain Lounge of the Hilton Inn at San Francisco International Airport.

The three young singers, who are adding fresh flavor to the ever-increasing cult of folk singing, will be showing their style to West Coast audiences for the first time. Performances are set for 9 p.m. and 11 p.m. nightly, except Monday.

Jim Butler

Bob Ponto is on bass; Jim Butler plays guitar and writes most of the special material; Rusty Hayward is lead singer and plays banjo.

Now under exclusive contract with Challenge Records, the trio first started entertaining at the University of New Mexico, where all three were attending school. They have built a repertoire of more than 100 folk songs and ballads. Much of their material is original, with emphasis on belting some humor into present day political and moral situations.

The Road Runners are now under the personal management of Odis "Pop" Echols, who started singer Tommy Sands on his way to fame.

Popular piano stylist Maurice Anger will alternate with the group, playing favorite requests to complete the Hilton Inn's new policy of continuous entertainment.

MILT TONINI, the Princeton Inn keeper, gave me a rundown on his last-Saturday "Christmas In July" party which even included a sled drawn by a donkey. "Had the biggest night we've ever experienced," said Milt. "There were gifts galore. "Pluto," the burro, got into the act by leaving his "trademark" in the center of the dance floor." . . . Walter's in Redwood City now serves luncheon Tuesday through Saturday, in addition to its fine dinners Tuesday through Sunday. You'll enjoy Walter's food, service and atmosphere . . . 30 officers of the District Tax Administration attended a luncheon at Rocca's restaurant in honor of the newly-appointed secretary of the State Board of Equalization Herbert Freeman. Among those attending were George Reilly and George Gnau, District Tax Administrator . . . Bola Sete, the brilliant Brazilian guitarist who made his American debut at the Tudor Room of the Sheraton Palace Hotel in 1960, has returned for a limited engagement. He will play nightly, except Monday, from 6 p.m. until 11 p.m.—with emphasis on classical and Brazilian music as well as the Bossa Nova.

Milt Tonini

PHIL LEHR'S STEAKERY is becoming the number one place for banquets in the downtown area of San Francisco. Phil has three private dining rooms (seating up to 125 persons) that are popular with luncheon and dinner meetings, banquets, parties, etc. Phil already has reservations for the Holiday season . . . Vacation suggestions: The Triple S Ranch located one mile off the Petrified Forest Road, 4½ miles West of Calistoga features the American plan; swimming, hiking, horseback riding; dining room and cocktail bar; luncheons and banquets by reservation . . . It is not often a dancer can stop a show without the aid of comedy or some vocalizing, but Juan Jose does it nightly at San Francisco's Finocchio's Club. Juan is one of five outstanding dancers now featured here . . . Billie Buche of San Lorenzo, and Nancy Boddy of Hayward are scoring a hit in the click "Gaslight Varieties" revue at Goman's Gay 90's. . . . Walter Suchorski and Edna Fuller head the greeting committee, along with Barbara Davies, at the Villa Chartier, Villa Square, in San Mateo.

Phil Lehr

JIMMY AND RICHY ROMANELLO of the Morocco Room have their reservation sights set on the Keely Smith opening (August 8) in the Fairmont Hotel Venetian Room. For this I don't blame 'em. . . . Beginning Saturday, August 3, the Crown Room, atop the Fairmont Hotel Tower, is serving their popular buffet luncheon every day of the week from 12 noon to 2 p.m. This sumptuous buffet, one of the best dining out values in San Francisco, has turned out to be THE place to go for tourists as well as for San Franciscans for luncheon pleasure. . . . Nomination for one of the most attractive menus (and the largest in size) goes to Nick Gust's Pacifica restaurant. This is a new adventure in dining out. . . . Shades of Caruso: vocal renditions of Mishel Corday as he prepares his special sandwiches. Classical music over KKHI fills the air at Mishel's restaurant. . . . There's no doubt about it: Frank Torres is not superstitious. The scenic view of the shoreline afforded at his Montara Beach Hotel is from 13 picture windows. . . . Frank Paone, who has "lots" of action at his Club Waldorf, sub-divides his time between bar and restaurant duties—with real estate activities.

Jimmy Romanello

DINAH SHORE, one of the top female vocalists in the country, returns to Harrah's Tahoe South Shore Room on August 5, for a two-week engagement. The popular songstress will be assisted by comic Bob Melvin, the Moro-Landis Dancers and Leighton Noble's Orchestra. Miss Shore will be entertaining Lake Tahoe audiences through August 18 . . . Because of many requests, H. E. McCoskey, co-owner of Lake Tahoe's Crystal Bay Club, is holding over for the second week that great singing quartet, The Lancers. Also appearing on the same bill is Jack Schafer, and joining this fine group tonight for a limited engagement will be The Cornodos . . . Just nine years ago, Harvey's Wagon Wheel master mixologist, Jack King, was the only employe on duty during the early morning hours (after games were closed at 4 a.m. Jack tended bar, was slot machine cashier, and security officer. Today, the popular South Shore resort hotel, casino and convention center has expanded its facilities and personnel to 1300 employes.

Dinah Shore

Luz Garcia's Many Gowns

Lux Garcia has many beautiful gowns in her large wardrobe, but the ones that create the most attention during her Sinaloa hostess duties are those especially designed for her out of parachute silk.

Enrico Romano, the Pacifica pizza baron, was in the Lake Tahoe area, last Monday, to look over a site for another restaurant. Wonder if Sammy Davis Jr.'s current Harrah's Club engagement could have had anything to do with the sudden departure of Mr. "R" for these parts.

Stan Marcus, head bartician at Lew Lehr's Marina steak house, tells this one on Boss Lew: "When we play golf, Lew is in the sand traps so often that I call him 'Lawrence of Arabia.' In fact, I carry a canteen of water around for him."

Il Manzo Is Open Sundays

The Il Manzo, one of the newer steak houses located in South San Francisco, offers dining room service on Sundays from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m., as well as during the week. Steaks and seafood are house specialties. Chris Michaels entertains at the pianobar, Jimmy Ware on bass.

Nomination for the busiest man in any town must go to Keith Williamson, the Burlingame chicken expert who tends to his Chicken and Steak House duties and supervises the outside catering business which is "blooming like Spring flowers."

Caravan Inn Show Is One Of Its Best

Great things have been happening at the Mountain View Caravan Inn— and one of the greatest was last night's opening of the talented Johnny Winn Duo — making its first West Coast appearance an entertaining one. Bob Bellows, International recording star, piano, entertains to the delight of his many fans. This entertainment "spread" is one of the Inn's best since opening.

Frank Schy, who serves the best Mexican food you'll ever taste at his Belmont and Palo Alto Horky's restaurants, says traffic on El Camino Real has reached an all-time high.

"They even have a new game called "What's My Lane?" was his smiling remark.

Bit of England features live entertainment spotlighting the Jack Miller and his group on Friday and Saturday evenings from 9 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.; Stan Gibbs Quartet bandstand from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. on Sundays.

Whenever Vic Damone is in the Bay Area he is sure to stop in the New Southern restaurant for dinner (and that's just what happened the other eve). Come to think of it, Vic and Owner Reno are look alikes (Reno is a dancer instead).

It's like being on a vacation when dining at the beautiful Charm Garden restaurant. The outdoor garden scene, restaurant decor, and food seem to carry you away.

Hyatt House For Banquets

One of the most attractive dining and entertainment packages in the Bay Area is offered at the Burlingame Hyatt House, which also features the Cantonese food of Johnny Kan. Genial manager Ed Sullivan invites you to plan your banquets or private functions in this Las Vegas-type atmosphere.

Vince's Italian and Sea Food restaurant is now officially open and serving its usual tasty luncheons and dinners. It is completely remodeled and redecorated.

Calorie Count Sky Deck Menu

The Sky Deck's "personal" menu is an eye catcher. For those who count calories. Try the low calorie, high protein breakfast which includes Special "K" cereal, one egg any style, white toast (1 slice) and black coffee. You'll find pleasant surroundings at the Sky Deck; reasonable prices; cocktails, and plenty of parking space.

Want to know how restaurant business is doing in San Mateo? Drop in Pierre's 211 San Mateo Drive site and see the signs of prosperity. Seems a new waitress is added each week to the fast-growing staff. Chef Pierre personally fronts the broiler.

Many Motels Give Away BarneyCoupons

Special for Lake Tahoe (South Shore), Nevada vacationers: Far-Sighted Barney O'Malia, owner of Barney's Casino, has supplied about two hundred of the three hundred, or more, motels in and about this area with special coupons that are redeemable for one dollar in cash when presented to the Casino cashier.

No strings attached to this offer. When checking in a motel, just request your Barney's Casino coupon. This offer is good daily, except Saturdays, Sundays, or Holidays, during your motel stay (one coupon per day for each person).

Barney's Casino is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Free coffee served on the second level, plenty of comfortable chairs for Keno players; two bars and restaurants for your dining and beverage pleasure.

Summer Perennial

ALMOST CONTINUOUS color is a feature of Marguerites, the Plant of the Week. The flowers could be described as the workhorse of the summer garden.

Marguerite Is Plant of Week

HOME & GARDEN

Marguerite, the popular name that gardeners have attached to three different perennial plants, is The Post Plant of the Week. These three perennials have very similar growing habits, produce blooms with a cushion center surrounded by a single row of "ray" petals, and have the happy habit of flowering from spring until fall.

The first of our three marguerites is "Chrysanthemum frutescens" which is also referred to as the "Pari Daisy." This one comes to us from the Canary Islands but is so much at home here that one would think it a native. In its native state it is a shrubby perennial that becomes woody at the base and rather "leggy." It will do the same in our gardens unless we pinch it back frequently when it is young and replace it every few years with homegrown cuttings just as you would a geranium. This Marguerite has bright, green, coarsely divided leaves and bears a profusion of long-stemmed, solitary white daisies that measure from one and a half to two and a half inches in diameter. One of the newer varieties has pale yellow flowers but is otherwise just like the one above. Both like a loose, rather dry and infertile soil and both propagate readily from cuttings.

Anthemis tinctoria, or "Golden Marguerite," is an Eurasian herb and a member of the camomile group. The name "Anthemis" is Greek for camomile. Like other members of its family the finely divided leaves are heavily scented. The two-inch daisy-like flowers are borne on long leafless stems. This Marguerite can be grown from seed or it is available in two named varieties: One, "Moonlight," has pale yellow flowers, and "Grallagh Gold" has deep golden flowers. These named varieties must be grown from cuttings as they do not come true from seed.

Felicia is the third of our daisy-like plants that bloom under the popular name of "Marguerite." It is a shrubby little plant that gets from 12 to 18 inches high and has a heavy crop of flowers. This Marguerite needs no propagating as it seeds itself generously and all one has to do is let the wanted number of these self-sown plants grow.

All three of the above "Marguerites" make beautiful plants for container growing. Their cultural requirements are so meager and their blooming period so extended they are most ornamental and useful when grown in containers and produce a great profusion of the daisy-like booms with soft blue ray petals. We have seen these plants three feet high but they are much more ornamental if they are kept to the lower height by shearing after each season. The Felicia makes an attractive plant for a hanging basket. All three are available, in flower, at most nurseries at this time of year.

Landscape Architects Are Named

Two Bay Area landscape architects have been appointed for University of California, Santa Cruz, projects, it was announced recently by President Clark Kerr and Chancellor Dean E. McHenry.

Douglas Baylis will be landscape architect for sciences unit I, while Lawrence Halprin and associates has been assigned to do the landscape plan for residential college I.

Baylis was graduated from the Berkeley campus in 1941 with a major in landscape architecture and a minor in art and architecture. His practice includes all phases of landscape architecture in California as well as in the eastern states. He was supervising landscaped architect for the Berkeley campus from 1956 through 1958 and is or has been a member of the art commission of the city of San Francisco for the past seven years.

Halprin has done major work in Europe and the Middle East as well as in many sections of the United States. His projects have ranged from small city and rambling country gardens to landscapes for hospitals, shopping centers and whole communities. He was recently appointed freeway design consultant to the state highway commission.

Man Hurt In 8-Car Crash

One person was injured in an eight-car pileup in thick fog on Skyline boulevard Saturday morning.

Richard Salam, 25, of San Francisco, was taken to Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco for treatment of facial injuries.

Daly City police said the autos collided in chain-reaction fashion in the northbound lanes of Skyline, just north of Pacifica.

A Mercy Ambulance attendant said a motorist had told him the first of the eight cars had slowed down when its driver saw someone changing a flat tire at roadside.

Milk Safe, Official Says

That is the basis of a report released last week by Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi, (R), Redwood City, concerning the radioactive fall-out content in milk.

Britschgi, getting many letters from frightened parents in the county, said that John Eslep, chief of the bureau of radiological health of the state department of Public Health reported:

"The department of public health is responsible for assuring that the public health is protected from radioactive contamination. The department of agriculture is obligated to insure that market milk is wholesome and safe.

"At the present time the state departments of agriculture and public health are cooperating in a statewide radiological monitoring milk sampling program. Samples are picked up from all areas in the state and are routinely analyzed for radiological contamination.

"This program has been in effect in California for over two years. Two of the sampling areas of the state include the milk produced in Sonoma county and market milk sold in San Francisco."

Decision on Chain Awaits Investigation

A decision whether to replace a chain across the Old Coast Highway with another type of road guard is pending completion of an investigation by the Daly City Scavanger company's insurance company.

Two persons were killed three weeks ago when they hit the chain while trying out a new motorcycle.

The chain bars the entrance to the company's dump.

Warning signs had been placed on the highway up to the chain, a company official said. Vandals have repeatedly torn down the signs to use as targets or firewood.

County Gets Road Taxes

San Mateo county received $194,252 in the July destination of highway users taxes among the state, counties and cities.

State Controller Allan Cranston said this was up nine per cent from the June tax split.

Of the total, $20,537,610 went to the State Highway fund for expenditure on highways, $8,365,337 to the counties and $4,550,203 to the State Highway fund for cities.

The amount distributed was comprised of $30,947,551 from the gasoline tax, $1,703,553 from the diesel fuel tax, $800,855 by transfer from the Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax fund, and the balance from miscellaneous sources.

CARBURETOR STOLEN

Martin Cosgrove of 221 Price street reported to Daly City police last week that thieves had stolen a carburetor from his auto while it was parked in his garage.

NOTE—In the above tabulation of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of the occurrence commencing with the early morning tide and the successive tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

The columns at heights give the elevation of each tide above or below the level of Coast Survey chart surroundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or dash (-) when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given by the chart (U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey).
